Orph To Help Athletic Club Gather Funds

Give Four Performances Next Week; Finance Baseball Team

The Madison Athletic association will add a few more hundred dollars to its coffers next Monday and Tuesday when four benefit performances will be held at the Orpheum theater through the courtesy of John Scharnberg, manager.

Tickets for the Monday and Tuesday performances will be sold by members of the Madison Athletic association and their friends.

Both Madison papers have agreed to give the project publicity.

Tickets for the performances will be sold at various business places around the city and individuals will also canvass for the sale of the tickets.

The M. A. A. is trying to raise between $3,000 and $5,000 with which to put over a real baseball nine for Madison this summer and the Orpheum's willingness to help the association along is greatly appreciated by the association.

"I'm glad to help the association in this way," Scharnberg said today.

SEYMOUR — Doris Melter won first place in the high school declamatory contest here.

Good Morning! Here Is 66 Hour Dancing Record

CLEVELAND, Ohio — The world's continuous dancing championship came back to Cleveland and into the hands of Madeline Gottschick beating Miss Magdalene Williams of Houston, Texas. Miss Gottschick quit at 9:06 a. m., setting the new world's record at 66 hours and 6 minutes, beating Miss Williams' record by 13 minutes. She said she was forced to quit because of exhaustion largely due to dancing on a tile floor. Miss Gottschick started dancing Saturday at 3 p. m.

Groesbech Vetoes Two Cent Gas Tax Bill

LANSING, Mich. — A bill recently passed by the state legislature imposing a tax of two cents a gallon on all gasoline sold within the state was vetoed by Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck today. Doubt is expressed by legislative leaders if proponents of the measure can gather sufficient strength to over ride the veto in both houses. The governor charged the bill was unjust in that it would be a tax not upon automobile owners but upon all other users of gasoline. Framers of the measure has estimated the state would derive upwards of $6,000,000 annually in revenue from the bill.

New Dairy Company Files Papers Here

A new dairy for Madison was organized yesterday when articles of incorporation for the A. Fergen dairy were filed in the office of the secretary of state by Allen Fergen, Cyril Marks and Alma Brunm. Capital stock is declared to be $10,000, consisting of 100 shares at a part value of $100.

Named To U. S. Farm Position

To Be Transportation Specialist On Department Of Agriculture

Henry R. Trumbower, member of the Wisconsin railroad commission, since 1916, resigned today to accept an appointment with the United States department of agriculture in charge of an investigation of the economics of transportation as it relates to marketing and distribution of farm products. He will leave the state service May 1.

The regular term of Mr. Trumbower on the railroad commission expired Feb. 1, but he has been retained by the governor up to the present time. Frank McManamy, transportation expert of the interstate commerce commission at Washington, D. C., will be named by Gov. Blaine, as Trumbower's successor.

In his new position, Mr. Trumbower said that he would particularly study the possibilities of extension of motor truck transportation of farm products. His work will be done in connection with the bureau of agricultural economics and the bureau of public roads of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Trumbower was appointed to the railroad commission by Gov. Philipp in 1916 to succeed Halford Erickson for the unexpired portion of his term. In February, 1917, he was re-appointed to a full six year term which expired in February of this year.

Prior to his connection with the railroad commission, Mr. Trumbower was a professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin where he served from 1910 to 1916.

Communist Party Now Workers Of America

NEW YORK — The Communist party of America has dissolved itself and diverted its members to the Workers' Party of America which it recognizes as the only affiliation of the third International of Moscow in the U. S., it was disclosed today by C. E. Rithenberg, secretary of the Central Executive committee of the workers party. The Communists dissolved, according to Ruthenberg, after voting at a secret convention here April 7, that they believed "The support which the Workers' Party of America has already won among the working masses will enable it openly and publicly to carry on the struggle for communism in the U. S."

Guard Budget Cut to $200,000; Senate Votes Reduction By 14-11

Huber Amendment Adopted; Trim Finance Committee Bill By $55,000

THE ROLL CALL

For the Huber amendment: Barber, Bilgrien, Cashman, Czerwinski, Heck, Hirsch, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Quick, Schumann, Severson, Staudenmayer, Teasdale. 14.

Against the amendment Benfey, Casperson, Clark, Garey, Gettelman, Kuckuk, Lange, Roethe, Skogmo, Smith, White, 11.

A cut in the appropriation to the Wisconsin national guard from $600,000 annually to $200,000 was voted 14 to 11 by the senate today with adoption of the Huber amendment to the finance committee appropriation bill calling for a grant of $255,000. On motion of Senator Czerwinski, Milwaukee, further action on the appropriation measure went over until the next calendar day, when reconsideration of the vote by which the Huber amendment was accepted, will be asked.

There was no attempt on the part of any senator to obtain a larger appropriation than $255,000 to the national guard. The general expression of senators was that the state's military organization should be cut to a pre-war basis when approximately 3,500 men were in service.

The upper house turned down an amendment offered by Senator Hirsch, Socialist, Milwaukee, cutting down the guard appropriation to $100,000 annually. It accepted without a roll call, an amendment by Senator H. J. Severson, Iola, removing the continuing feature of the appropriation. This amendment would require the guard to obtain funds by an affirmative vote of each legislature.

Sen. Henry Huber, chairman of the joint finance committee, dissented from that committee's report, together with Sen. Schumann and Polakowski, who stood out for a larger cut in the appropriation.

Sen. A. S. Garey, Edgerton, and Sen. W. L. Smith, Niellsville, urged fairness in dealing with the grant of funds to the adjutant general. Sen. Garey declared that an appropriation of $200,000 annually would mean the disruption of the Wisconsin national guard.

Sen. Anton Kuckuk, Shawano, read into the record a letter from Adjt. Gen. Salsman advising that with an appropriation of $255,000 from the legislature it would be necessary to muster out the regimental headquarters, 18 organizations of infantry and six of cavalry.

He said that the following units of the 32nd division would be retained: 127th infantry, 128th infantry, 120th field artillery, wagon companies, motor transports and trains of the 32nd division, together with the medical and ambulance detachments. In addition there would be retained, he said, two battalions of the 121st field artillery and the 105th cavalry.

Col. Salsman said that by careful handling of funds the guard with a reduced strength could get along on an appropriation of $255,000.

Rules Drill Not Compulsory

That the provisions of the Morrill land grant act do not make university military training at the university compulsory is the opinion given by William R. Curkeet, deputy attorney general. The opinion was given following the request of Herman W. Sachtjen, who introduced the bill in the legislature making military drill at the university optional with the students.

While it would be violating the Morrill act to abolish the military training entirely Mr. Curkeet holds that to make training optional will meet the requirements of the Morrill act. The opinion follows:

"I have had under consideration your inquiry on the following questions:

"Do the provisions of the Morrill land grant act require that military training be compulsory in the land grant colleges?

"Are the requirements of the law fulfilled by providing in the university curriculum a course

Dog Wagon To Move; Dispute Ended Today

Lunch Counter to Go Back To Former Home Near Station

Controversy over the McCloskey "dog wagon" on State street, was settled today at the last meeting of the old city council. Ald. T. W. Quinn introduced a resolution asking permission to move the wagon to its former site at the St. Paul station on W. Washington avenue. No discussion was raised.

This action will also settle the case now pending in Circuit court started by State street residents who objected to its presence.

A change in the zoning law, providing that instances where a joint driveway agreement exists at the rear of the lot, owners of said property can use the portion they give toward the drive as a rear yard, was made.

Instructions to advertise for bids on the Starkweather creek bridge on Fair Oaks avenue and on the E. Johnson street bridge over the Yahara river were issued to City Clerk Harry C. Buser. Plans and specifications of both bridges were adopted.

A change in the law governing positions on the board of cemetery commissioners was made which will allow all persons residents of the city or cemetery lot owners, to hold positions on the board.

The ordinance providing inspection of all instantaneous gas water heaters installed or to be installed was referred back to the ordinance committee.

A life-sized, half-length portrait of Senator Robert M. La Follette was presented this morning as a wedding present to his son Philip F. La Follette, who was married in Chicago Saturday, by C. A. Leight, sergeant-at-arms of the state senate.

Mr. Leicht has owned the portrait for 10 years, having received it from the artist who painted it, Henry Brockman, deceased, formerly of New Lisbon. The portrait was painted in 1912, and is valued, Mr. Leicht says, at $1,500.

Methodist Hospital Drops Suit

Withdraw Claim; Bow To Wishes Of Widow Of Late Justice

A stipulation was entered into today between attorneys for the estate of the late Judge Roujet D. Marshall and the attorneys for the Wisconsin Methodist Hospital and Home association by which the claim for $500,000 filed against the estate is wholly withdrawn.

The board of directors of the association instructed its attorneys to enter into this stipulaion, and authorized the issuance of the following statement:

"The association has found itself in a very perplexing position with reference to the agreement of Judge Roujet D. Marshall to contribute $500,000 to make possible the erection of a modern hospital at Madison. The agreement to make this contribution, which carried an annual income of $25,000 in favor of Judge and Mrs. Marshall for the term of their lives, was entered into by Judge Marshall without any prior knowledge of any kind or nature by the association and it first learned of his intention after the document was signed. The association was greatly pleased because of the possibility of accomplishing its ambition to build such a hospital in Madison particularly in connection with the medical school of the University of Wisconsin and because such a hospital would make possible a tremendously significant service to large number of afflicted persons throughout a large area of Wisconsin and also because of its feeling that the late Justice Marshall had built for himself by such a contribution the most wonderful monument that any person could conceivably build.

'The fact that Mrs. Mary Marshall, the wife of Judge Marshall, joined in the contribution also particularly pleased the association as Mrs. Marshall has been a life long member of the Methodist church.

"Because of its belief that both Judge and Mrs. Marshall fully intended to accomplish the objects which this contribution made possible, the association caused a claim for $500,000 to be filed against the estate of Judge Marshall. It has been advised and is still advised by its attorneys that this claim is a valid and enforcible claim and that they will be able in their opinion to successfully establish the claim in court.

"However, Mrs. Marshall, the widow of the late Justice Marshall, who joined with the Judge in this contribution, shortly before the Judge's death expressed some uncertainty as to the whole matter; the association has felt that her wishes should be respected in the matter; it has, however, hoped that she might not only withdraw her objections to the allowance of the claim but that she would even actively urge its allowance.

"However, she has comparatively recently indicated to Dr. Reginald H. Jackson of the Jackson clinic, that she does not wish the claim to be pressed and in fact that she would prefer the claim to be withdrawn. In view of this attitude of Mrs. Marshall the Drs. Jackson, who participated with Justice Marshall in planning this wonderful memorial, have urged the hospital association to respect to the letter Mrs. Marshall's wishes, indicating that they feel that the contribution was the joint enterprise of both Judge Marshall and Mrs. Marshall and that they desire that nothing be done in reference to the matter that does not meet with her fullest accord.

"In view of all these facts the board of directors of the association has decided that the request of the Drs. Jackson that the wishes of Mrs. Marshall must be respected. The board has therefore voted that its attorneys be instructed to stipulate for the withdrawal of this claim, thereby relinquishing all claim against said estate for any part of the $500,000 contribution."

Mrs. Maisano Denies Destroying Rum Evidence

Mrs. Angelo Maisano pleaded not guilty to charges of destroying evidence when arraigned in superior court today on the complaint of state and federal prohibition agents. ## Fountain of Youth is Found by Science

European Discovery, Easily Used At Home, Restores Vigor Quicker Than Gland Operations.

Those who suffer from nerve weakness and lack of vigor will be interested in a European discovery which restores full physical power quicker than gland operations. It is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless and yet the most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on important nerve centers, glands and blood vessels, it often produces amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours and gratifying results within a week. Physicians say it gives speedy satisfaction in cases that defy all other treatment. Elderly people declare it is a real "fountain of youth."

Distributed under the trade name of "korex compound," the discovery has been tested thoroughly in America and the manufacturers have received a veritable flood of letters of praise and gratitude from revitalized men and women in every state. Patients past 60 testify that the compound quickly restored to them the vigor of the prime of life.

Knowing that this news may seem "too good to be true," the distributors invite any person needing the compound to take a double-strength treatment sufficient for ordinary cases, with the understanding that it costs nothing if it fails. If you wish to try this guaranteed invigorator, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories, 2725 Massachusetts Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. You may enclose $2; or simply send your name, without money, and pay the postman $2 and postage on delivery. In either case, if you report "no results" after one week, the laboratories will immediately refund your money. This offer is guaranteed by ample bank deposits, so nobody need hesitate to accept it. —Ad

Plan Community Union Play

Mrs. Joseph V. Fuller

Mrs. Fuller is the general chairman in charge of the Community Union Tableaux to be given at the Central high school Wednesday evening, May 2.

The Community Union tableaux will be presented in the central high school auditorium Wednesday evening, May 6. The Union will present in dramatized form the work of the fourteen agencies in the Community Union. Mrs. Joseph V. Fuller is in charge of the tableaux and will be assisted by Mrs. Louis E. Reber and Mrs. C. B. Chapman. F. W. Huels will be in charge of the stage and Miss Margaret McCarthy will design the costumes. C. B. Bookman, executive secretary of the Community Chest of Cincinnati, Ohio, will give a short address. He is a well known authority on community chests. A short report will be given of the result of six months' work of the agencies in the Community Union. The High school band will furnish the music.

Each orgaization is the union will personify in two or three scenes the work it is carrying on in this city for the betterment and welfare of the community and its inhabitants. Thus the Red Cross will show a few scenes from the war, a battle, wounded soldiers being carried in from No Man's Land, and being cared for in the hospital.

This is the first time a thing of this kind has been attempted in Madison and it will make the people of this community realize something of the character and magnitude of the work being done by the agencies in the Community Union as nothing else could do.

The people in charge of the tableaux for the various organizations are:

Madison Anti-Tuberculosis association, Mrs. Leo Lunenschloss; Attic Angels, Mary Ella Ferguson; Boy Scouts, L. W. Ketchum; Girls' club, Mrs. Carl Stephenson; General hospital, the Misses Julia Hanks and Louise Allen; St. Mary's hospital, Mrs. R. S. Herman A. Hass, president of the American Ice Cream Co., who has just returned from a trip to Europe and the Near East, will give a lecture on his experiences at the Turner hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Members of the Madison Turnverein and their wives are invited.

Mr. Hass left Madison on Sept. 30, for Europe and has recently returned from his trip. From Madison he went to Germany where he spent six weeks and then he proceeded to Alexandria, Palestine, Syria, Constantinople, Smyrna, Athens, Venice, Switzerland, Austria, France, Belgium and Holland.

Mr. Hass says that the consensus of opinion in Europe seemed to be to the effect that the Ruhr situation will bring on war in Europe. He says that taxes are very high in France and that great burdens are being placed on the French people.

Mr. Hass will relate some interesting experiences in his talk tonight. He will tell how he travelled from Hamburg to Berlin, a five hour trip, for 7 cents of American money. He travelled from Berlin to Munich, a distance of 463 miles for 25 cents in American money. He said that the tracks in Germany are in good shape, that riding is comfortable but that the equipment is old.

While at Munich Mr. Hass was compelled to pay 5,000 marks a day for his hotel fare. He says that because of the depreciated money in Germany people are not saving money but are spending it for clothes and other necessities.

Mr. Hass said that while in Italy he found Mussolini to be very popular among the people.

Assembly Axe Puts To Death Host Of Bills

Sachtjen Bill For Aid To Child Farm Workers Escapes Death

The assembly was in a killing mood today, and with four exceptions sent to their death all bills on its calendar. Among those which escaped and were given passage was the Sachtjen bill empowering the industrial commission to regulate the employment of children under 16 years in agricultural pursuits. An effort to kill this bill failed 52 to 19, and it is now before the senate.

Two bills dealing with the operation of motor vehicles were killed. One, by Assemblyman Nein, would have required all vehicles to stop before crossing railroads when teh crossing was unprotested by flagman or gates; the other, by Sen. Czerwinski, would have empowered municipalities to require vehicles to stop before crossing or turning into arterial thoroughfares.

Another bill given the axe was that by Warden providing for the prosecution of claims by the state against the federal government for the recovery of large sums of money alleged to have been paid illegally into the federal treasury as a direct tax on Wisconsin property. The vote was 41 to 30.

Bills regulating the sale and delivery of bakery products, establishing a state board for the examination and licensing of embalmers and requiring physicians' prescriptions to be written in the English language also were sent to their death by substantial majorities.

Harding Backs Gary Stand On Immigration

But Stand Of Steel Firm Is Flayed By Johnson Today

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Harding was said at the white house today to believe that E. H. Gary chairman of the board of the U. S. Steel Corp. was quite correct in his statement made to the corporation's stockholders yesterday that a serious labor shortage was threatened through the operations of the restrictive immigration law. In his report to the president, Stcty. Davis said that despite the labor situation he believed that throwing open the gates of immigration and flooding the country with workers and non-workers at the present time would "serve to bring prosperity to an end."

A vigorous defense of the restrictive immigration laws was made today by Chairman Johnson of the house immigration commission.

"Most appeals these days for more liberal immigration laws are based on the idea of selection," Mr. Johnson said. "Selection for what? From Mr. Gary's standpoint the answer is for work in the steel mills. In spite of restricted immigration, the U. S. Steel Corp. seems to have done very well with a net earning of $410,000,000 in 1922 in spite of a 20 per cent increase in wages."

Government Bonds Are Best, Miller Tells Club

"The safest bonds one can buy are government bonds," declared George Miller of the bond department of the Commercial National bank Monday evening in a talk on "Bonds and Investments" speaking to the members of the Peers club at the city Y. M. C. A.

"Public utility bonds are probably next best. These would be electric light and gas bonds. They are safe because the companies operate under franchises, because they are public utilities, and because these companies are never bothered with labor troubles."

Advertising Club To Meet Wednesday Noon

"Direct Mail Advertising—How to Make It Pay" will be the title of a talk by Henry Metz before the Madison Advertising club at the Monona Hotel Wednesday noon. Mr. Metz is advertising manager of Olson & Veerhusen's and was associated with Hart Schaffner & Marx before returning to Madison. He is a graduate of the commerce course at the university. E. J. Usher of the State Journal has been named chairman of the club's "On to Atlantic City" committee. The annual convention of the A. A. C. of W. will be held there June 3-7.

Let us talk over that motor problem-

For instance, if you operate a dairy or creamery, or make or pack food products of any kind, or are in any other business requiring economical power—you will find that there is a G-E Motor and Control "just to fit".

MESSAGE TO BUSINESS MEN

With G-E Motors—you pay only for work performed

Buying coal when you need a little power is like buying wheat when you need a loaf of bread.

Putting power on a piece-work basis is one of the greatest economies which may be effected by any plant. In doing this, thousands of the most carefully planned plants have gone the full distance in the installation of G-E Motors and Control.

Designed in many types and sizes and built to withstand the hardest usage, G-E Motors are giving full service when ordinary motors have been discarded.

The local G-E Motor dealer is in a position to figure with you to "show you a profit on your needs".

Shain Pleads Guilty to Charge; Judge Stolen Defers Sentence

Madison Patrolman Is Arraigned After Arrest In Milwaukee

Announcement of his intentions of resigning from the police force, to save further action by the police and fire commission, was made by Shain today when he turned over his keys and "23" star to Chief of police Thomas Shaughnessy.

In Superior court today, together with his pretty young wife, the object of a hundred staring bystanders, Fred Shain, suspended police patrolman who was brought back to this city from Milwaukee on a charge of malicious destruction of property, pleaded guilty to those charges and sentence was deferred pending investigation by the court.

Shain walked with determined step to face the judge with whom he has cooperated the last year in bringing wrong doers to justice. He pleaded guilty upon reading the complaint.

Shain while on duty was known as number "23," the hoodoo number of the police department. This number brings ill luck to the wearer, according to a police circle tradition. Another officer who resigned from the force late last fall after a "rumpus" on the west side of the city, also wore this number.

When arrested Shain wore his civilian clothes.

Sheriff Julius Krug brought the suspended police officer back from Milwaukee last night after Shain had been arrested by Milwaukee detectives. William Croft, another member of the party that broke in the door of the Chateau D'Argonne tavern owned by Oliver Davis, Monona Drive, who was arrested with Shain, also pleaded guilty to the charges this morning. Mike Bowes who is also named on the warrant, has not been apprehended, but police are convinced that he is hiding out in this city.

Radio Corp.'s New Tube Uses 1/16 Usual Current

Operates Almost Cold and is said to be long lived

Chicago, April 16—The new 199A Radiotron vacuum tubes which until now have been available for test purposes only, are said to be surprisingly far ahead of anything the Radio public has yet seen. They operate practically cold on 1-14 the usual current and half the voltage. Two dry cells in series will operate four tubes. The filament seldom burn out but after many months use they at last become seemingly "hard."

Like other oxide coated filament tubes they are very quiet with resultant long range. Used as amplifiers on the new Radiola IV, for which they were designed, they give none of the usual noises that are heard when the broadcasted music temporarily stops. As radio frequency amplifiers their noiseless operation is said to make them particularly successful.

They should be used in close coupled circuits with untuned grid and tuned plate. A short antenna is recommended. A special socket must be used as the tubes are quite small.

French Protest Chester Grants On Mosul Oil

General Pelle.

General Pelle, French high commissioner in Constantinople, in the name of France, has protested to the Turkish government against the action of the national assembly in granting the Chester concessions. The protest declares the assembly's action nullifies rights granted in 1914 to a French company for the building of railroads and ports in Anatolia. Under the Chester plan, the U. S. interests were granted valuable oil concessions in the Mosul oil district.

Secrecy Measure Is Signed

Blaine's Signature Puts Severson Income Bill In Force

The secrecy clause attached to the Wisconsin income tax law was removed today when Governor Blaine signed the Severson bill opening all income returns of individuals and corporations to the public. There was no comment accompanying the governor's signature to the measure.

This act ended the political fight that was waged over the secrecy clause during the 1922 political campaign, with the La Follette-Blaine forces contending that millions of dollars of unpaid income taxes were being covered up because of the secrecy surrounding returns.

The state senate passed the Severson bill at this session after a hard-fought contest, with the socialists and progressives uniting to assure a majority. In the assembly the measure went through without a contest.

Political opponents of the progressives say that they will now watch for the results which proponents of the measure claimed would come from its enactment.

The joint meeting of the council and Association of Commerce committees which was to be held at the city hall Monday evening was postponed upon the request of M. B. Olbrich and others who have interested themselves in the field. The meeting will probably be held the latter part of the week.

The proposal which seems to be most favorable to the acquisition of a municipal athletic field is that of giving the old Burr Jones playground on E. Washington avenue back to its donor, who, it is understood, will in return give another strip of land owned on the east side with Mr. Olbrich. Definite information on the location of the proposed site has not been divulged being held until a meeting of the committees has been called.

Invest Your Savings Wisely In First Mortgages

First Mortgages and First Mortgage Bonds constitute the very best form of investment. The interest rate is high,—higher than first class bonds and stocks,—the security absolutely safe. That is why First Mortgage investments are wise.

The real estate security back of these loans is of a non-speculative nature and is less affected by trade fluctuations than producing properties such as industrial plants. The fact that this company has invested its own funds in these mortgages attests to our firm belief that these are wise investments.

EngineersHold Annual Parade Next Saturday

Bad Weather Will Not Stop March, Announcement Of Committee

Rain or snow, the Engineers will turn State street into the most elaborate parade ground in the history of the school on Saturday April 21. The bob sleighs have been taken off the royal carriage and hung up in the law schol as a memorial of the 'big snow."

H. E. Rutherford '23, who will impersonate Saint Patrick has finished preparations for the royal guard which will be mounted this year. The original Blarney Stone has been taken out from the vault of Sol Levitan's bank and is being repainted for the journey around the square.

Professors In Chains.

The burlesquers will take a shot at most everybody. All campus publications will be in the parade, and the "Awk" of several years back will be revived and printed during the parade. Professors will walk in the parade in chains, while the greenest Frosh will use their discretion in driving them.

All the floats will not be taken off show, for several of the [illegible] have planned to enter floats that will be symbolic of their organizations. Jack Leonard '23 will lead the Engineers band of 75 pieces, who will be bedecked in the royal regalia of the late Polish courts.

Engineers Assist Police.

Th Madison police will be assisted by a band of 20 mounted Engineers under the leadership of Nick Ferrick '23 who promises to handle the traffic on State street and quell any disturbances that may arise. He asks that everyone desiring to view the parade from autos to park at the intersections of the side streets, and not in the path of the parade.

The reviewing stand will be at the head of State street on the square. The judges who will pick the winners of prizes are taken, one each from the school in the Engineering college. Professor Scorp, [illegible], Shorey, Radd, and Kowalk have consented to act for their departments.

The prizes to be awarded will be out on display in Sumner and Cramton's window Thursday and will remain there until Saturday when they will be awarded.

Dr. Harold Marsh In Address At Freeport

Dr. Harold E. Marsh returned to Madison yesterday after a trip to Freeport, Illinois, where he spoke before a county medical society meeting on the new treatment of diabetes.

Varsity Union Gives Badges To Subscribers

Life Members Receive Buttons As Symbol For Wisconsin [illegible]

The [illegible] badges which will be [illegible] Monday to all those students who have paid $25 or more on their life membership in the Union, is one which will create a more unified and loyal group of Wisconsin men, according to Leslie [illegible] president of Union board.

"The Union building and the whole organization connected with Wisconsin men will be a complete [illegible] and that failure [illegible] all the students consider themselves part of it, and show their interest by carrying the emblem on their lapels. Unless the button is accepted by the student body as a whole, the idea of a unified Wisconsin Union will fail," said Gram.

The Wisconsin Union, contrary to the general conception of it by the student body, is composed of all the men students in the university. The Union board is merely the executive committee of the Union, elected by the men students. The button will show the wearer to be a member of the Union, entitled to all the many privileges and uses of the Memorial Union building. It will also serve as a symbol of membership and the man who wears the button will be immediately recognized as a Wisconsin man.

"The new building will draw all classes of university men together and tend to produce a closer affiliation of Wisconsin men and a greater pride in the school," John C. Dawson, secretary of the Union board, said last night. "The badge will be the symbol of this spirit. It will designate its wearer as belonging to the greatest Wisconsin organization. It will give the men a more intimate feeling toward one another [illegible] they have something in common."

"The design of the [illegible] will be used as a coat of arms throughout the building. The [illegible] of the spacious [illegible] will bear the attractive [illegible]. ## How to Rid the Arms Of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

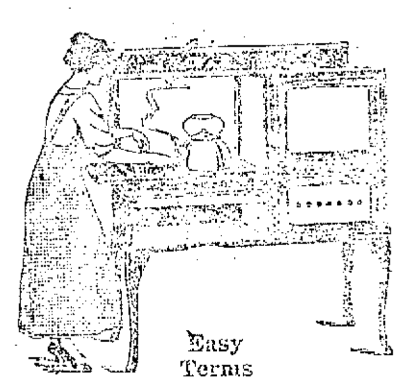

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required: Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury but care should be exercised to get real delatone.—Adv.

My back gave me trouble with pains and weakness and I could not lift a pail of water. When I stooped I got severe stabs of pain through my back. I felt miserable and my kidneys did not act right so I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's rid me of the trouble."

HERMAN KNABE, 1321 E. Wilson St., says: "Moulding work in the foundry strained my back. My kidneys were weak and acted too freely so I had to get up several times at night. My back felt cramped and a sudden move brought on sharp, piercing pains. There was a dull ache across my kidneys and I could hardly sleep. Mornings I was lame and stiff. A fellow workman advised Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me completely."

A parade of 20 automobiles, carrying Madisonians who took part in the welcome for Beban circled the Capital Square Monday afternoon. The parade ended at the south entrance of the capitol and Gov. J. J. Blaine awaited there to present the key of the city and state to Beban. The key, which was about four or five feet in length was made of pink carnations, and was borne by Maria McCarthy, small Madison girl. Miss McCarthy turned the key over to the Governor, who in turn presented it to Beban. Beban expressed his thanks to Gov. Blaine, Mayor I. Milo Kittleson and others who took part in the welcome. Moving pictures of the welcome were taken by Johnny Jones, staff photographer of The Capital Times for the Pathe News Weekly. Local photographers crowded around and "shot" Beban and his cast numerous times.

Letters to Daily Cardinal On Student Drill Issue

ANSWERING "A. PRIVATE"

[illegible]

The petition was signed in good faith and presented to the legislature in good faith, and I think that "A Private" displays a deplorable lack of sportsmanship in thus attempting to discredit it.

HAROLD A. CRANEFIELD

PRAISE TO THE STUDENT OFFICERS

Coercion was not used to make the cadets sign the petition for compulsory drill as has been charged. I defy anybody to prove it. The officers were too clever to leave any evidence around that could be used to prove it. It was stated several times in the speeches made before the corps that no one should feel that he was obliged to sign the petition.

No, they did not stoop to anything so low as that. They simply used their knowledge of mob psychology to put something over on the mob of cadets. There were many ambiguous statements in the long speeches that were intended to leave the impression that anybody who didn't sign the petition were bolshevists and unpatriotic Americans, and that this was the only way to wipe the stain off our honor that the passing of the pending bill would put there. These statements had the desired effect. We ... not have time to think over these statements and to form our own opinions and many of us signed the petition who were sorry for it afterwards when we realized what had been put over on us.

The first companies approached signed the petition almost unanimously. They talked about it afterwards and many of us had time to think about the subject before we were lined up for the talk. As the day progressed, the percentage of those who did not sign grew larger, even though the speeches were more subtle.

This is strategy, and very good strategy at that. When the next war comes, what chance will the poor ignorant enemy have against such clever officers as these? Therefore, let us praise them and give them credit for their little coup d'etat.

Kiwanis Club Gives Benefit MinstrelShow

Underprivileged Child To Be Aided By Proceeds

A minstrel show for the under privileged child. This is the plan of the Madison Kawanis club. The show is to be given at the Parkway theater on Friday, May 4, is participated in by half a hundred members of the local business men's club. The fund created by the performance will be held by the club to carry on work started by the Kiwanis club international a year ago. A minstrel show will be the means east year of replenishing the fund.

Frank L. Frable, of the production company bearing his name, will arrive in Madison Thursday to start work on staging the production. The program will be divided into two parts, the first being the Minstrel serenade, with eight end men in black face and 18 singers in the circle. The second part will be the musical comedy, "Alice, Where Art Thou?" a humorous skit ospecially written for the occasion by Mr. Frable. Sixteen chorus girls will appear in this act together with eight principals.

The under privileged child idea was born in a convention of Kiwanis clug international in Cleveland in 1921, when it was decided unanimously that the time was ripe for "the endeavor to secure some general cause to the support of which all Kiwanis clubs may be rallied" as the committee's report stated.

In April, 1922, the international committee of public affairs recommended that the public activity in which all local clubs may unite shall be of service to the underprivileged child, under the slogan, "A Square Deal for the Under Privileged Child—A Future Citizen."

"In service to the under privileged child, Kiwanis has found a truly superb field of public activity," said Forrest Kilgore, president of the local club. "Nothing could be more genuinely American than to enlarge the opportunities of these youthful members of the community to whom fate has been unkind."

World War Veteran Paroled By Blaine

Frank Sorenson, Milwaukee Thrty-second division, war veteran, sentenced in March, 1920 to 15 years in Waupun, has been paroled by Gov. Blaine. Sorenson won the distinguished service cross. The governor announced Saturday that Sorenson, who since October, 1922 had been a patient at the Wisconsin Psychiatric institute, will take vocational training in Milwaukee. His crime was attributable to a nervous disorder resulting from war service, the governor holds.

Sorenson was accused of entering the apartment of Mrs. Catherine E. Taylor and her daughter Mrs. Beverly Worden, Milwaukee, on March 25, 1920, and attempting to hold them up with his army revolver.

This Photo Wrecked Romance

The photo of W. D. Philen and Miss Annie Mae Wells, taken at start of their honeymoon ride.

ATLANTA, Ga.—A wedding photograph wrecked the honeymoon of W. D. Philen, daring southern aviator, and his wife, Miss Annie Mae Wells, almost before it was well under way.

Now police here are holding Philen on bigamy charges and one more disillusioned bride is home with mama and papa again.

Miss Wells being popular here, the wedding was something of a social event, especially as it came after an acquaintance of but two days.

And newspapers printed the pictures of the happy pair.

Then through some freak of fate one of the papers happened to fall into the hands of an Indiana woman. She looked at the picture, read the story and then wired police here to hold the man.

She happened to be his first wife and she charges she is still acting in that capacity.

Philen now is under indictment on a bigamy charge.

International View Point Needed To Change Order

That confusion has dominated the world since the close of the great war, a chaos which it appears is impossible to dispel, is a statement made in the Yale Daily News in an article syndicating the foreign student problem. Conference after conference has failed to accomplish any real settlement, making the outlook at present seem rather hopeless, according to the article. Apparently every conceivable method has been tried, and each has been unsuccessful.

"When the world thinks in international terms," says the Yale Daily, "then will the world wide peace become a realization instead of an ideal. And is not the best way to dispel this 'international ignorance' to work through the students? It is the college man of today who will be at the head of the government and the leaders of industry in the tomorrow which is now dawning.

"If only a glimpse into the manners, customs and ideals of the students of other countries can be imprinted upon their minds at this impressionable age, groundless prejudices will be removed and the thought established that human life is pretty much the same the world over.

Fight For Education

"In the midst of poverty and squalor, the like of which the world has never seen before, European students are drudging, starving, and even fighting among themseves for a chance to be educated. Above the clamor and confusion of a nation in the act of finding itself rises a cry or understanding.

"A clear insight into the present condition is given by Helen Ogden, American Relief Administration representative, who has seen the facts first-hand. The ultimate outcome is a question which time alone can decide."

It is true that Europe's need of technical and professional men is desperate. According to statistics approximately one-third of her medical men were killed or died during the war, and now in some parts of Russia there is but on physician to every 100,000 persons. Likewise all branches of law and engineering are equally crying for trained men.

Russia Foresees Need

The Russian Government in particular, foreseeing this need for trained men and wishing to stimulate learning, offered a fine "piyock" or ration to anyone enrolling as a student. The number of students was enormously increased, but most of them did not know what it was all about.

The Educational Department of the Government soon saw that while the new principles were right in theory they would not work out all at once, and it set about limiting the number and kind of students so the Government ration was cut off, and the ensuing famine automatically took care of the experiment; for any a student who has already completed most of his education and who sees the goal just before him, will continue to study in the face of starvation.

So these students are continuting their studies in the face of starvation and most unhealthful living conditions in the interest of their national welfare in order to supply the remedy which alone can set Europe on her feet again.

"The impression seems to be prevalent that the seats are all gone for Haresfoot. This is false and many good tickets are still at the box office at the Parkway and can be obtained by application there," Frautschi declared last night.

The official box office sale for "Kikmi" will open Wednesday morning but students can obtain seats now by applying at the window, it was given out yesterday.

William Polk, War Veteran, Dies, Age 80

Death At Local Hospital Follows Stroke Of Two Weeks Ago

William A. Polk, age 80, 301 Van Dusen avenue, died at 10:30 last night at a local hospital, where he had been removed following a stroke two weeks ago.

Mr. Polk was born Dec. 20, 1842 in Germany. Coming to America with his parents and settling in Wisconsin in the early fifties, he met Miss Augusta ruger, Nischkora, Green Lake county, who later became his bride. Their courtship was interrupted by the outbreak of the civil war, when her family, removing to Minnesota were in an Indian massacre. Mr. Polk, believing his fiancee lost in the massacre, enlisted August 15, 1862, with Company B, 32nd Wisconsin infantry, with which he served until taken ill during Sherman's march to the sea, and later spent a period of convalescence in one of the northern hospitals.

Miss Kruger, escaped from the Indian attack, had returned to Wisconsin to find her future husband gone without leaving any indication as to his location. Only when he returned on a furlough were they reunited and married Sept. 24 1865, at the conclusion of the war.

Nine of their children, with the mother, survive Mr. Palk. The other two children, born early during the married life of the couple, died in infancy.

In Madison, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Polk are Miss Minnie, who lives at home, Mrs. Lula Way, wife of Wilfred Way of the building company, Mrs. Julia Stark, wife of Paul E. Stark, and the sons include Edward, proprietor of the paint shop and William J., with the Madison Pattern company.

Living out of the city are Mrs. Adeline Polk Frisbie, Gillett, Miss Emma Polk, Milwaukee, Mrs. Alice Comstock, Livingston, Mont. and Frederick A. at Primeville, Oregon.

The oldest daughter of the couple to reach maturity was Mrs. Henry B. Wineland, of Jefferson, who died last October. A sister, Mrs. Lena Marks, Appleton also survives.

Pending funeral arrangements, the remains are with A. A. Frautschi. Services will probably be held Thursday afternoon from the First Baptist church.

Management Is Running Roads Couzens Says

Senator Declares Rail Heads Incompetent; Quotes U. S. Figures

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Reiterating charges that the condition of railroad equipment showed incompetent management, Sen. Couzens, Rep., of Michigan, in a statement today quoted figures to show that modern locotomotibes were not efficiently used and that in recent years there had been a great increase in bad order cars and engines.

In a previous statement Sen. Couzens said, he had asserted that the general practice of railroad management was to cut wages or raise rates, instead of endeavoring to find other means of cutting costs. The railroads replied, he said, that they had reduced expenditures in 1922 over a billion dollars and that they averaged only 1,645,237 employes in 1922 as against 2,012,609 in 1920, although traffic was not greatly below the volume of 1920.

"Now let us see," said the senator, "how deceptive this statement is. The interstate commerce commission's figures showed that the 1922 traffic was approximately 10 per cent less than in 1920 and you will observe that the difference in the number of employes was approximately 19 per cent, so where is this flaunted efficiency."

20,000 Accounts Here

There are about 20,000 accounts at The First National Bank-Central Wisconsin Trust Company. Most of these accounts are accounts of Madison people, for it is local confidence that has built this bank.

If these accounts were distributed among the people of the city, there would be one account for almost every other man, woman and child in Madison.

Not only that, but this number is growing rapidly. Last year, for example, the number of people doing business with our Savings Department increased over 70%. More than 800 new people rented boxes in Madison's most powerful vault.

Do you realize what effect this would have on your business if you were located in the First-Central Building in the heart of this activity?

If you realize the opportunity for the future that this space presents, call Fairchild 1985 and ask for Mr. Frost. He'll gladly show you about.

Jeanne D'Arc Has Brilliant Opening Here

Bernadine Flynn, In Title Role, Shows Insight Into Character

By ROWENA BROWN

Gleaming as outstandingly in the ambitious presentation of "Jeanne D'Arc," which appeared last night at the Parkway under the auspices of the Madison Catholic Women's club, as if she had been flooded continually with a silvery white light, Miss Bernadine Flynn, interpreting the title role in Percy Mackaye's poetic version of the life of the French Saint, carried on her slender shoulders the burden of the entire drama.

Second only to her inspired insight into some of the more dramatic moments was the presentation by Joseph Zellner of the character of D'Alencon, the "bonnie duke" whose courage regained for the maid her departed faith in her Voice. John Bourke, in the character of La Tremouille, was convincing as a bishop with political ambitions.

Others in the cast whose dramatic work remains in the memory were Miss Agatha MacCaffery, as the insidious courtesan, Catherine De La Rochelle, and William O'Malley as the dispirited King Charles VII.

The most satisfactory moments of the drama were the scenes when Jeanne, in company with one or two others, or by herself, occupied the stage. One of the final scenes, where Jeanne, having returned again to masculine garb, stands imprisoned, a lively creature in white and silver, wrists bound with chains, and relives with D'Alencon the scenes of her career.

This scene, preliminary to the final tableau, and other night scenes, where the shepherd's staff turns into a flaming sword at St. Michael's command, and again where, under divine watch the weary maiden sleeps with her tiny page, are undoubtedly the most effective in the entire play.

The two tableau scenes, showing the coronation of Charles, and again the martyrdom of Jeanne in the flames, were masterfully grouped. Lighting and scenic effects were handled by Sidney Thorsen in a manner most professional.

The play will be presented again this evening, tomorrow afternoon, and tomorrow evening at the Parkway. Evening performances will begin at 8:15.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMANN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

You should give it a fair trial now.

Gudrid Circle Hears Danish Drama Reading

Hardy Steeholm Entertains Members With Musical Play

At the meeting of the Gudrid reading circle this afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. H. Kiland, 146 North Henry street, Hardy Steeholm, now editor of the Wisconsin Magazine, read portions of his translation of "Elfin Hill," a light musical play written nearly a century ago by the leading dramatist of Denmark, Johann Ludvig Heiberg, who in competition with Ohlenschlaeger and Boye, wrote the play for the royal ballet at Copenhagen which has proved a favorite of the Danish stage ever since.

The play is authorized by history for part of its plot, which deals with the suspicions and comic situations incurred by the lower and middle classes of the country in their observance of legendary superstitions.

The incident of King Christian IV and his daring to cross a fairy bridge guarded jealously by the elk-king, the effrontery of Captain Monks and his subsequent death which filled the simple mind with awe, are woven into a delightful tale of fancy and fact which won for Mr. Steeholm, who translated the Danish as a thesis, high honors at the university.

KIKMI MANAGER MAKES SUCCESS

THOMAS A. TREDWELL '23

Thomas A. Tredwell '23 has been the manager of the Haresfoot club for the 1923 season. Alumni members of the club throughout all the towns played by this year's show, "Kikmi", have declared that the show this year has been the most efficiently handled in years and that this contributes in a great part to the phenomenal success which the club attained this year in playing to packed houses. The final performances of "Kikmi" will be Friday and Saturday with a matinee Saturday. There are good seats left for all the performances.

Egan Company Moves Into New Quarters

The D. P. Egan Co., dealers in used car parts, has moved from 20 N. Webster street to 732 E. Washington avenue, into the building formerly occupied by the Madison Used Car Co. Lack of room is given as the reason for the change in location.

The company plans to carry one of the most complete stocks of new and used car parts in southern Wisconsin. Mr. Egan, manager of the concern, has 12 years experience in the automobile business.

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Ramon Coffman "Uncle Ray"

CHAPTER 1. THE EARTH'S FIRST MEN.

(Copyright, John Dille Co.)

Once I heard a housewife complaining to the grocer about some bread she had bought.

"It was so stale," she said, "that it must have been baked in the Year One."

The grocer was puzzled for a moment and scratched his head. Then he realized it was a kind of joke and a broad grin spread over his face. It was certainly a joke, for bread baked in the Year One would have been stale indeed. That year was over nineteen hundred years ago. A single year is a long time, and nineteen hundred of them—well, we can't realize how much time that is.

The earth, however, was in existence even before the Year One. Men who study nature are called "scientists." They have learned a great deal about the layers of rock near the surface of the earth. By the way these layers are formed, they are led to believe that the earth is MILLIONS of years old.

The human race, however, appears not to have been living for as much as a million years. Some scientists say the first people lived about five hundred thousand years ago. Their belief is based on the finding of part of a skeleton deep in the ground on the island of Java. This skeleton must be half a million years old, and there is reason to believe it belonged to a man with a small brain.

Other scientists think human beings did not live until some time later. Certain bones found in Europe appear to have belonged to people who lived from fifty to three hundred thousand years ago.

This picture will give you an idea of the way some of the earliest men are believed to have looked.

The earliest men were savage creatures. They had no tools or weapons except those they might pick up from the ground, or break from a tree. To guard themselves from wild beasts, they used stones, sharp sticks and clubs.

It is interesting to think of what they may have eaten besides the flesh of small animals. There were plenty of hazelnuts, sweet chestnuts, blackberries and wild pears to be gathered. Brooks might yield watercress, and quick hands might seize fish. Honey left by bees in out-of-the-way places was doubtless found and eaten by these half-wild men who were struggling for life amid wildest nature.

Kiddies' Clothing Can Be Made at Home

By ELOISE.

The last month before summer vacation time is almost here and it is high time for busy mothers to make summer togs for the family. The little under-sixes always need new clothes every season.

Linens, jerseys, ginghams, percales and, of course, batiste and lace for best, are the favored materials. Linens, ginghams and percales make splendid every day suits and dresses and jerseys are fine for the cool days which are bound to come in the early and late seasons. Here are a few simple styles which the handy needlewoman may easily copy.

At the left is a simple little linen suit which spells comfort for the little boy at play. The little trousers are on a lining and the blouse is very simply made with a white linen collar, cuffs and belt. Such a suit ma-- be easily laundered and is very cool and easy to fit.

The other little suit for a boy is made of jersey in a very similar style. It has long sleeves, however, and the collar buttons up close at the neck.

The little girl's dress at the left is of brown wool jersey, full at the throat and falling into graceful lines at the knees just allowing the knickers to pep out at the bottom. The frock and bloomers are trimmed with brown buttons.

At the summer parties and afternoon calls the little white frock at the right will make any young miss walk a bit proudly. It is white batiste trimmed in baby Irish lace and insertion with a wide ribbon sash at a high waistline. A little lace and net hat completes the party costume.

Mrs. Thompson's Advice

GIRL SAYS SHE CAN'T ATTRACT BOYS

Is Good Looking and Intelligent, She Says Has Many Friends Among Older People

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: I am good-looking, have good clothes and come from a family which every one respects. I have heard people say that I am smiling and helping some one all the time. The grades I receive at school are better than the average. But while I have many friends among the older people and girls, I do not have boy friends. Why is this?

Only one or two boys have ever asked to come to see me. The girls of my age have boy friends and they wonder why I do not. Is there a way for me to attract? Do you think because I am shy and possibly a little quiet the boys do not notice me? SUNSHINE AND SMILES.

You simply haven't found a way to be interesting to boys. Meet them half way and encourage them to talk about school, sports, dances, plays, etc. You have told me at length about your advantages, but you have merely hinted at a possible fault of being shy. All of us have faults as well as good points and I would advise you to study yourself from that point of view and forget about good-looks, clothes, high grades, good family, etc. None of your assets are enough to produce charm; that is a thing from within.

It is all right to be kind and full of smiles, but don't over do it. The world has grown tired of Pollyannas.

WOULD HELP DAUGHTER.

My daughter is desperately in love with a man whom I do not believe cares for her. He is good to her and I know would feel dreadful if he knew. I don't see how he can help knowing, but men sometimes are so blind. What can I do to interest her in other things? She is only 17 so it seems as though I ought to be able to help her.—MOTHER.

Try to make your home a social center for all your daughter's young friends so that she will have many good times which are not dependent on this man's companionship. And encourage her to accept at least occasional attentions from other young men.

But do not be too much distressed if you cannot save her from some unhappiness in this affair. Almost everyone at some time knows the unhappiness of unrequited love. You perhaps cannot save her from such a disappointment, but you perhaps can see to it that the experience does not embitter her, but makes her a more helpful and understanding woman.

* * *

COMPROMISE.

I go with a man whom my mother doesn't like very well. There is another man who asks me out sometimes and my mother thinks he is fine. I don't care about going with him, but I do it so that my mother won't be cross about the other man. This doesn't seem quite fair, but since I don't intend to marry either of them, isn't it all right?—G.

Try to look at the matter from the men's point of view, also. If you are certain that neither of them is serious in his intentions, then there is no reason why you should not accept their invitations occasionally. But if you have reason to believe that either is learning to care for you, it would not be fair to encourage him if you are certain you never could return his regard.

And, have you considered, also that a compromise of this kind adds nothing to your strength of character?

* * *

NEGLECTFUL AND ABUSIVE

I am a girl of 17, married and soon to be a mother. My husband's mother and sister objected very much to his marrying me and now they are trying to turn him against me by saying things about me that are untrue.

So now he listens to their talk and has deserted me. He stays out late at night. He hasn't given me any money for two weeks. He makes good wages, but gives the money to his people. He even strikes me.

I have talked and pleaded with him, but it doesn't do any good. I am a nice girl and well thought of by the people who know me. What shall I do?—C. D.

If you are unable by your own efforts to bring about a better situation between yourself and your husband, perhaps Bradley Hull of the Bureau of Domestic Relations, New Courthouse, can help to bring him to a better realization of his responsibility.

* * *

RELIGIOUS DIFFERENCE.

I am in love with a young man of a different religion. He loves me and has asked me to marry him, but I don't know what to say. I am sure my folks would object to my marrying him unless he changed to my religion, and I fel that that is a good deal to ask. What is your advice?

—TROUBLED.

This is no matter for an outsider to settle. It is for you and the young man to decide.

Little Chats With "Uncle Ray"

Dear Boys and Girls of Madison:

It would be hard for me to tell you how happy I am over the chance to speak with you daily through the columns of The Capital Times. Madison is my "home town," and I have lived here almost all my life. During the last few years, however, I have been in Milwaukee, and therefore I have not yet been able to become acquainted with a very great number of Madison children. That will be fixed up, though, between now and the middle of June, all of which time I shall be right here in the city.

While I was children's editor of The Milwaukee Journal, I met thousands upon thousands of boys and girls. We used to have meetings in neighborhood theaters. I would show some pictures taken from The Child's Story of the Human Race, and would tell at least one fairy story. During the summer we had picnics in Milwaukee's public parks.

Milwaukee was such a large city that we could not very well gather together and hike to the picnic grounds. Madison is much better suited to picnic hikes. Soon we shall begin talking about the first one.

In the meantime, I shall be very happy to receive letters from you to tell me about yourselves, and how you like The Child's Story of the Human Race, and what you think of the picnic hike idea.

This chat is just to help us get acquainted. The ones which will follow will be used mainly to tell things about every-day life, the stars and nature in general. Sometimes too, I may tell a fairy story; and I shall surely do some talking about the letters I receive from you. (My address will be "Uncle Ray, care of THE CAPITAL TIMES, Madison, Wis.")

Always your friend,
UNCLE RAY.

"Whoo! Hoo! Whoo! Hoo" called a jolly voice outside the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"It's Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel," said Uncle Wiggily.

dy duck, calling you to come out to go to the moving pictures, or something like that," said Uncle Wiggily as he made his necktie straight.

"The idea! I guess when my lady friends call for me, in that Wild Indian way, I'll know it," spoke Nurse Jane sort of sniffy and snippy like. "It's probably for you, Wiggy!"

Just then the voice called again:

"Who-oo! Who-oo! Oh, Uncle Wiggily. Are you coming out?"

"There! What did I tell you?" cried Nurse Jane, satisfied like.

"It's Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel," said Uncle Wiggily, rather diffident and humble as he looked from the window. "I suppose he's going to school and, very kindly, he stopped for me."

"You don't mean to tell me you're going to school—at your age?" exclaimed Nurse Jane.

"No, but I'm going adventuring, and I may as well hop along with Johnnie toward school, as far as he goes," said the rabbit gentleman, and out of the bungalow he skipped while Nurse Jane shook her head, saying:

"He gets worse and worse and younger and younger. Well, I suppose there is no help for it." Then she began giving the dishes their morning bath, while Uncle Wiggily hopped along with the squirrel boy.

They had not gone very far before Johnnie chattered and said:

"Uncle Wiggily, I wish you'd help me look, this morning."

"Help you look, Johnnie what do you mean?" asked the bunny gentleman. "Do you want me to help you look through your school books to make sure you have your lessons?"

"No, thank you, not exactly that," answered Johnnie. "But in a grove of trees not far from the hollow stump school, I buried some hickory nuts in the ground last fall. Now I'd like to dig them up and eat them, but I don't just remember where I hid them, and I wish you would help me look for them."

"I will," kindly promised Uncle Wiggily, and when they reached the nut grove, not far from school, Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie went searching over the ground, looking amid the dried leaves for the hidden nuts. Squirrels often bury nuts when they don't care to eat them right away, and often they forget where the nuts are hidden.

"Have you found any yet, Johnnie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, after a while.

"No, have you?" inquired Johnnie.

"Not a one," answered the bunny uncle. "Perhaps Johnnie, you didn't hide any nuts here at all."

"Oh, yes, I'm sure I did. Let's hunt a little longer. It isn't time for school yet."

But whether any nuts were hidden in the grove or not, something else was hidden there, and it was the bad Bob Cat. The Bob Cat was out early that morning, looking for ears. And when he saw Uncle Wiggily coming toward the nut grove, the Bob Cat said:

"I'll dig a hole in the leaves and hide myself. And when they get here I'll jump out and grab Uncle Wiggily." So the Bob Cat hid himself under the leaves and brown, dried pine needles.

Then, all of a sudden, as Johnnie was poking around among the leaves, he uncovered something that, at first, he thought was a nut. But when the squirrel boy looked a second time he saw it was the nobby end of the Bob Cat's tail. Without saying a word, Johnnie went softly over to where Uncle Wiggily was looking around in the leaves.

"Uncle Wiggily!" whispered Johnnie. "I guess maybe there aren't any nuts here, but the Bob Cat is here, for I just uncovered the tip end of his tail. If we go away softly now he won't hear us."

"Fine!" whispered the bunny. "We'll go!" And they went out of the grove so softly that the Bob Cat never heard them depart. And he kept on waiting and waiting and waiting for a chance to spring out at them. And when, finally, he got tired of waiting, and popped out—why, Uncle Wiggily was safely back in his bungalow and Johnnie was in school.

"Fooled again!" cried the Bob Cat, gnashing his teeth.

And, if the strawberry shortcake doesn't go swimming in the lemonade without its umbrella, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and how his ceiling fell.

Minnesota Receives Large Gift For Cancer Memorial

One of the largest gifts to the University of Minnesota in many years was announced by the Board of Regents, Saturday when the board voted unanimously to accept the donation of $250,000 from Mrs. George Chase Christian, for the erection of a cancer institute as a memorial to her late husband, Geo. Chase Christian, prominent Minneapolis business man who died two years ago.

Cape and Dress Which Match Are Summer Novelty

By ELOISE

Sand color is modish again this year and a frock and cape to match is irresistible when developed in that shade. The frock and cape to match, by the way, is one of summer's favorite novelties and crepe in navy, brown, tan, beige and gray is the favored material for these costumes. This outfit illustrated is an important model.

The frock is a straight line chemist style which slips over the head. The V-neck is outlined in brown braid. Circles formed of brown, black and tan braid trim the costume. They form the hem border and exaggerated tabs for the belt slip through and larger ones trim the cape collar and side panels. A tan silk hat in a large cloche shape with a side trimming simulating the circles on the dress is a clever finish to this distinctive summer costume for general wear.

BAND PRESENTS VARIED PROGRAM IN GYM SUNDAY

The most varied and popular program ever presented by University of Wisconsin band has been arranged for the spring gala concert in the University gymnasium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The program is arranged to provide pleasure for every type of music lover. A number of compositions which have been attracting attention in large cities throughout the musical season are being featured.

A selection from the opera "Mefistofele," by Boito, is one of the feature numbers. This opera represent the work of the modern Italian school, and the selection to be given by the band contains the most outstanding and inspired portions of the opera.

Miss Clara Louise Thurston, harpist, who has appeared repeatedly in many of the great art centers, has been engaged as soloist for the concert. Miss Thurston plays one of the finest Lyon and Healy concert grand harps, and her skill places her among the foremost harpists of America.

The Story of an Artist's Wife

As Told to Grace Phelps

RUTH'S FORTUNE

"O, very well," said Barclay, laughing. "I shall not let you hear my fortune, then!" And he got up and went over to one of the men gypsies.

The old gypsy clutched my hands tightly with her skinny brown ones. On her red satin waist was a curious stone, almost like an eye. I kept looking at it, fascinated, as she went on.

"You will marry a tall, fair haired man," she said, "and after three months you will never know peace of mind again!"

I shuddered and wanted to draw my hands away but I could not.

"Your life will be spent in strange places. You will live among strange people and no one will understand you. You will have to speak their language and live their ways. Sometimes you will live in luxury, more often in poverty but never in peace. Again and again your roots will be torn up, to be planted, bleeding only to be torn up once more. Women will cross your path and other men will come to comfort you but for you there will be one man only. And him you will love till you die!"

I could scarcely breathe but there was one question I wanted to ask. Between my parched lips it came, painfully.

"And will he love me—always?"

Before she could answer Barclay interrupted us.

"I say, that fortune doesn't look as if it were a good one at all," he called out, coming toward us. My face must have betrayed the strain I was under for his own face showed concern.

"You mustn't let her frighten you," he went on, lifting me to my feet.

The spell was broken. The gypsy, to whom I had listened as if she had been a prophetess, able to read the future, became once more just an old woman, garbed in outlandish style and hung with bits of colored glass. She did not look up but mumbled something that I suppose must have been thanks as Barclay pressed another coin into her hand and drew me away.

I was glad to go nevertheless. Never had the sunshine looked so good to me. As we walked away from the encampment, I glanced back once, and to my frightened eyes, the whole scene, gypsies, dogs, covered wagons and even the fire seemed to be shdouded in gloom as if they were in the heart of the forest, instead of on the edge of the woods.

Unconsciously I pressed closer to Barclay.

"Frightened, sweetheart?" he asked, amused but solicitous. "You are such a sensitive, imaginative little person I should not have brought you here. What did the old woman tell you?"

His sympathy was very sweet but for all that I would not tell him what the gypsy said. There wasn't any doubt in my mind but that the tall, fair haired man she referred to meant Barclay but it seemed ridiculous, out here in the sunshine, to believe that the dreadful things she said about my future life with him could possibly be true. I did wish, though, that Barclay had not interrupted us until after she had answered my question.

I glanced up at his face shyly. All at once it occurred to me that for all his endearing phrases Barclay had not said the three words that a girl wants to hear.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Bacon Muffins — Sift flour once, then measure four cups; add one teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder and one tablespoon of sugar, and sift three times. Put flour in mixing bowl, add two well beaten eggs, six tablespoons melted lard, one and one-half cups of cold water and beat hard; lastly add two tablespoons crisp diced bacon. Bake in muffin pans twenty-five to thirty minutes.

Parsnip Soup—Scrape two large parsnips and cut them into pieces. Boil in a small quantity of salt water. Rub through a sieve, water and all. Make a white sauce, one-quarter cup of butter; one-half cup of flour and a pint of milk. Heat one quart of fish stock add the parsnip pulp and the white sauce. Blend together well and season with catsup or Worcestershire sauce.

To Make Fish Stock — After washing thoroughly cover the fish, whether it be heads, trimmings or whole fish, with cold water. Add salt, outside stalks of celery or celery leaves, parsley, onion and a bay leaf. Simmer gently for about an hour. Strain. Reduce by further simmering to get a stronger stock for soup or fish sauce.

Mock Meat Cakes — Soak one-half cup dried peas or beans over night. Boil until very tender. Boil and mash five medium white potatoes. Add mashed beans, one-half cup grated cheese, one-half cup of fine bread crumbs, one egg, beaten, one teaspoon of bacon fat, and salt and pepper to taste. When cool shape into cakes. Dip into corn meal and fry.

Stuffed Pork Hearts —Take two pork hearts. Wash with cold water, remove tough skin and arteries. Stuff with one and one-half cups of well-seasoned bread dressing and sew up or skewer. Place in casserole. Lay four slices of bacon over top. Put in hot oven and after searing meat on top pour one cup of water in dish. Cover and bake slowly for two hours When done remove from casserole to platter. Thicken gravy in casserole and serve on platter with meat. This serves six.

To Prevent Rust— After using the oven let the doors stay open until the warm air has evaporated. Then no moisture will collect to cause rust.

SUGGESTIONS

For Apple Pies — Cut apples in irregular pieces for pies and they will cook quicker. When they are sliced they pack more closely and the hot air does not come in contact with the fruit so readily.

CHARLES RAY STARS IN GRIPPING PLAY
FILM ROMANCE BASED ON POEM BY RILEY

Charles Ray in "The Girl I Loved"

A new and virile Charles Ray, with an acting scope and power unknown to many devotees of this favorite star, will be seen at the Strand theater on Wednesday when he will present his second feature under the banner of United Artists, entitled "The Girl I Loved."

Based upon the poem of the same title by James Whitcomb Riley, this photoplay presents Ray in the character of that beloved writer in his youth. It is not widely known that Riley had a dramatic love affair and he described it with great beauty and deep sentiment in "The Girl I Loved." Out of this confession in verse and its implications of a fierce inner struggle Mr. Ray has built a thrilling photoplay.

Back of this romantic story runs a charming panorama of life among the buoyant and whole-hearted folks of rural Indiana in 1840-60. The simple but hearty merrymaking of an era before our day of hectic pleasures are said to have been presented with great fidelity, forming a bright contrast to the more intense action of the main story.

Charles Ray is best known for his cleverly shaded representations of ambitious youth.

Ramsey Wallace, one of the sterling actors of the stage, and Edythe Chapman, the foremost delineator of mother roles on the screen, are members of a numerous cast.

Last times today Johnnie Walker in "The Fourth Musketeer" and Clyde Cook in his latest comedy, "High and Dry."

Pietro Balletti's quest ... his little dead daughter ... of great art. ... understood by all ... epic ... consummate skill Beban has built up his narrative, detail by detail, each perfectly placed. Yet "The Sign of the Rose" is in no sense a picture that strikes only the gentler chords. There are "big" scenes aplenty and thrills—such as a fire on an ocean liner, staged with terrible realism; an automobile accident that shocks by reason of its fidelity to real life; and the quiet, tense scenes in the gorgeous flower shop.

MANY GOOD THINGS ON ORPHEUM BILL

Many good things are on the first half bill of the closing week of vaudeville at the Orpheum. Heading the talent is the cheery comedienne, Stella Mayhew in "Exclusive Songs." She is billed as the Sunshine of Comediennes, and has been the bright star of many of the larger musical comedy productions in recent years. The "Varsity Serenade Quartette" with Marty Below, Russell Irish, Jack Cornelious, Bobby Costello is assisted by Jimmy Van Alten and Jess Cohen. The local boys are holding their own in the surroundings of real theatrical atmosphere. The Minstrel Monarches are being well received in the entertainment in which they figured so prominently years ago. Niobe is an attractive young woman who does remarkable accomplishments in a huge tank of water. Her voice is quite audible in all parts of the theater though she is submerged in the water. Ray and Edna Tracy in "Piano Eccentricities" and "A Cycle of Smiles" by Jack and Bessie Gibson complete the program.

MERRILL — Herbert Belling, 28 years old, died on Monday as the result of a fractured skull received when he fell during an epilectic attack.

Stock Company For Orpheum Spring Season

La Vern Stock To Play Stage Successes Here During Summer

The Orpheum Circuit announces that they have secured for the spring and summer season, The Dorothy La Vern Stock Co. who have just completed a successful run of thirty weeks at Sioux City Ia. The policy of this attraction is one performance nightly starting at 8:15, and three matinees a week, Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday the matinee time being 3 'clock on Sunday and 2:30 Wednesday and Saturday.

The cast is headed by Miss Dorothy La Vern who has had her own stock company for several seasons, having formerly been starred by Oliver Morosco in "Peg O' My Heart" also the "Third Degree," "The Lion and the Mouse", "Kindling" and numerous other Broadway successes. Miss La Vern is known as one of the most versatile stock leading ladies of the day. Mr. Melvyn Hesselberg the leading man is one of the youngest leading men now in stock. He spent several seasons with Walter Hampden the eminent Shakespearean actor.

Mr. Jackson the owner and manager of the company, who portrays the comedy roles, states that owing to the dearth of the bigger road attractions, that most of the New York and Chicago hits are now available for stock production and the company will produce only those plays that have been proven successful in the larger cities.

The company will offer a new play starting each Sunday matinee, the opening play being Rachel Crothers' recent New York hit "Nice People."

STEAM BOILER MODEL PRESENTED TO PURDUE

A working model of a section from a Wallis steam boiler has been presented to the Mechanical school of Purdue university by the Wallis Steam Boiler Company, of Racine, Wis. The section of the boiler has been enclosed in glass so that the actual workings of the circulation system may be observed.

A new style of water circulation system is used in this boiler, the water rising through a cone and being returned to the boiler by means of a spreader that catches the water when it rises to the top of the cone.

The model is to be used for class room demonstrations of the water circulation system of boilers.

Owen Scott, of the Associated Press will speak on "The Organization of the Associated Press" at the regular meeting of Press club at 7:00 o'clock tonight at the Delta Pi Delta house, 501 North Henry street. An important business meeting will follow the program.

GAMES TODAY.
Pittsburg at Chicago.
St. Louis at Cincinnati.
New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.

Clubs of the National league have a day's start over their American rivals in the season opening, and there will be games today at four parks. Leading in local interest is the CubPirate clash.

Second to this, and perhaps first in national attention, will be the Giant inaugural at Boston, where Christy Mathewson is the new ... Matty's men will try to make ... interesting for the world champions.

Branch Rickey has his Cardinals at Cincinnati. These two teams are generally regarded as first division contenders and pennant possibilities. Two unknown quantities, the Dodgers and Phillies, meet at Brooklyn.

Out of all this one new manager makes his bow. Art Fletcher, former Giant shortstop, will try to make a ... with the Phillies. It's a tough assignment, one on which many men have failed. Not until the team has ben through a few weeks of real competition can a line be gained on this outfit.

Of all the eight clubs, New York is picked by most to repeat its championship triumph. McGraw has strengthened his team notably by Pitcher Bentley. Whether or not Outfielder O'Connell will help him is a question. With its superb infield, a pretty good pitching staff and its spirit, New York will be a hard team to beat out at the finish.

Most critics have been picking Pittsbugh to finish second with the same regular outfit it had last fall. Certainly ... Kechnie had them going ... toward the end. ... is worthy of much attention.

Roundy Says:

"Gibby" Gibson Is "There" As A Toastmaster

The Madison Church Athletic Association, gave a banquet last night for the church league players at the Y. M. C. A. It was as fine a one as ever was staged in this city. Talks were snappy and to the point,—and for a first undertaking it was a howling success.

* * *

"Gibby" Gibson, the Wisconsin halfback, was toastmaster, and folks, he sure is a scream at it. No brighter, clean-cut chap ever breathed than this boy Gibson. He went a long way toward making the banquet the success that it was. Janesville can feel proud of getting a type of man like Gibson as a coach and athletic director.

* * *

Doc Wilson, who staged the banquet, deserves a lot of credit for his fine work, and this fellow Wilson is giving time and money to get the boys in this city to become athletes.

* * *

Doc Meanwell gave a fine talk and his presence made the younger boys happy. It is always noticed that Meanwell is at these banquets trying to help old Wisconsin get boys to come to this institution.

* * *

Mayor Kittleson gave a fine talk. He brought the athletic field subject out in cold turkey shape and for that I admire him. The mayor came out in the open saying that he is for it and is willing to express his opinion for it in public. Kittleson finally has made the thing look like a success: men like him backing it up means a lot towards seeing it being completed. He also encouraged sports among the church boys and city boys and the athletic field is the thing that alone will accomplish that feat.

* * *

Supt. Gosling of the schools made a rip roaring speech. He is doing all he can to get an athletic field for this city. Gosling is out and out for clean sports and his backing us up for the field means a lot towards success also.

* * *

I wish to thank the Church officers for the banquet, and you are going a long way towards getting this city what it needed years ago. An "Athletic field", if the churches are back of it in all their branches you can rest assured it will be a success in quicker time than you can expect it.

* * *

Pinkey gave him a boxing lesson he will never forget but at that he gets no credit for it because Thorp proved such a false alarm in the midst of this boxing marvel that the bout looked like a joke. Mitchell tried to give the fans their money's worth even going so far as willing to break his hands on this bird's head. Thorp is supposed to be tough and tough he is, a punch on the bottom of his jaw don't faze him as he has a skull thicker than a mud turtle protecting his small brain.

* * *

The ladies' bowling meet is on. Big gallery, mostly all married men getting a relief from the dish pan and rolling pin.

* * *

Mrs. Casper Schaub throws the first ball in the gutter and when I left was still throwing them in there.

* * *

Mrs. Kretlow—Well all there is to it, there ... ten ... down there and she was glad to get eight of them. She says she will see those two extra ones in the doubles and singles.

* * *

Mrs. Rasmussen did fine bowling in the five-women event. She is one of the most steady lady bowlers in the city.

* * *

Mrs. Emil Dohr was off color. If they had 10 doors down there instead of nine she might have had a 300 score.

* * *

Mrs. Kidd did some very good bowling in her first game and after that she went to pieces.

* * *

Mrs. Nilles of the East Side ladies' team made a split that got a good hand from the gallery. Mrs. Kopp and Mrs. Loftsgordon did some very good bowling also for the East Side team. This team is a jolly troupe not in there to win but to make the game a success.

* * *

Mrs. Ira Anderson was off color last night. She says she will bang that wood into kindling wood in the singles and doubles.

* * *

Bessie Schmidt and Miss Schlank did good bowling. That new spring tonic is doing them a world of good.

Bradford Alumnae to Open Campaign For Endowment

A two weeks campaign will open on May 2 to raise a $500,000 building and endowment fund for Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass. Miss Elizabeth Kerr, '24, University of Wisconsin, will be chairman for the Madison district. Each Bradford alumna is expected to give or obtain $275. Of the half miller, $250,000 will be used for buildings, including a seperate dormitory for girls of the preparatory division, and the balance will be used for permanent endowment, according to an announcement made by Dr. Raymond Calkins, Cambridge, national chairman of the campaign organization.

Track Men To Encounter Real Foes This Week

Relay Team Goes To Kansas; Beloit Comes Here

That Wisconsin will have no easy time in its track competition for the week-end is shown by the excellent calibre of the teams that will be met. While the two-mile relay team goes to Lawrence, Kansas, to take part in the relays there, the remainder of the team will meet the Beloit college cinder men at Camp Randall.

After a rather erratic season of outdoor practice, the half-milers were given a tryout Saturday afternoon, and the four men to represent Wisconsin at the Kansas Relays were decided upon. Johnson, Hilberts, Vallely, and Ramsay are the chosen few.

The half-milers have worked hard and faithfully during that part of the outdoor season when weather has permitted, working even during the entire spring vacation after they had shoveled the snow from the Randall track.

Crew Kept Off Water By Ice On Mendota

With the surface of Lake Mendota still covered with ice, it appears that the varsity crew will be unable to get on the water before the ... of May.

"This ... will be the latest that we have ... off the lake in ... years," said Coach "Dad" Vail ... "Last year the crew went on the lake April 9 for years we were able to get on the years we were able to get on the lake during March."

A large number of men are working out every day so as to be in good condition when they are able to get on the lake. Those who are out for the crew are: Capt. H. E. Johnson, D. C. Newcomb, F. H. Grover, P. B. Rhode, A. T. Spredal, W. F. Holmes, R. E. Heueger, Ed. Esser, W. A. Gerhardt, L. H. Kingston, G. W. Bauchus, R. C. Klussendorf, ... R. J. Schuetz, ... Bentson, T. R. Salter, E. C. ## Iowa State Debate Teams Win and Lose in Contests

The Iowa State debate teams split even in the annual Iowa State-Michigan Aggies-Purdue University triangular debate last Friday night, the affirmative winning at home, and the negative losing at East Lansing against the Michigan team. The single critic judge system was used in both places which allows a lone judge to make the final decision.

WEYERHAUSER — A large summer resort will be built on Bass lake, near here, by J. H. Bowker.

Athletic Field Project Given Official Boost

Mayor Kittleson Tells Church League Madison Should Have It

"I hope the time will soon be here when Madison's young people will have an athletic field on which to stage their football games, baseball games and other outdoor athletic contests," Mayor I. M. Kittleson, said before 150 men and women at the city "Y" last night during the Church Athletic association's banquet.

The Mayor praised the association for its good work and expressed a desire that it be kept up in future years.

Meanwell Talks

Dr. W. E. Meanwell, U. W. basketball coach told of the benefits a person derives from the game and he also urged that the church league continue its good work and grow into a larger organization.

T. W. Gosling, superintendent of public schools seconded Mayor Kittleson's remark regarding an athletic field.

"I hope that we will soon have it and I also want to see "Roundy" in all his glory when we do get it, for he deserves much credit for his efforts to get a field for Madison," Gosling said.

Gibby Is Toastmaster

E. H. "Gibby" Gibson, Wisconsin grid star was toastmaster and handled his part of the program in real "Gibby" style.

Other speakers were Oscar E. Olson, Gus Tebell, Hugh St. John, J. W. Hanzel, Steven Matteson, Joseph Gleason, Paul Lallier, Kenneth Beers, Oscar Wilson, Tom Thompson, A. F. Grimm, Kenneth Damon, "Roundy" Coughlin and Bryn Griffiths.

Wisconsin And Beloit Tussle Is Called Off

Badgers Open Season Against Indiana Here Friday

Beloit will not open the baseball season here this week as was planned. Instead the first game will be with Indiana university here Friday afternoon. A second game will be played on Saturday.

"We won only the first and last of our eight games played on the southern training trip," said Coach Guy S. Lowman, "but the trip served its purpose. I learned where to place my men in the short time we were gone."

"When it came to inside baseball and a knowledge of the game we were far ahead of the teams we met," continued the coach. "Superior pitching and batting beat us, and if we had had any outside practice, they wouldn't have had an advantage on us even then."

The pitching staff has been simmered down to four men who showed them selves fairly dependable despite their inexperience. Except for Pickford the pitchers have never before been on the mound for a college game. William Johnson, Helmuth H. Schrenk, Jerome M. Pickford, and Walter L. Radke will do the hurling this year.

Demand For Men Teachers Increases at Music School

Increasing demand for men qualified to take executive positions in public school music and to take charge of bands and orchestras is reported at the University School of Music.

Requests for teachers have commenced to come in, and the school is having difficulty in supplying the demand, especially for men.

Only one student has been placed through the school. Miss Rigmor G. Estvad, a graduate of this year, has taken a position as assistant in the music department of the Madison public schools.

Indiana University Band to Play at Speedway Classic

The Indiana university band will play at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway classic to be held May 30, according to H. B. Wells student manager of the band. Wells signed the contract recently with F. E. Meyers, manager of the Indianapolis track, on the condition that the band be on the grounds at 8 o'clock the morning of the races.

Report of the Markets

Report for April 17, 1923

Wheat Rise As Offerings Grow Scarce

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Owing to an unlooked for scarcity of offerings wheat took an upward swing in price today during the early dealings. Bullish crop reports, especially from western Nebraska tended to stimulate buying, and so likewise did comparative steadiness of quotations at Liverpool. The United States supreme court decision upholding the validity of the grain futures act appeared to have lost effect as a bearish infiffluence. Opening prices which varied from unchanged figures to ⅝c higher, with May 1.24⅛ to 1.24½ and July 1.22⅛ to 1.23⅜, were followed by a moderate general advance.

CORN — Corn and Oats were firmer with wheat. After opening unchanged to ½c higher, may 79⅝ to 79½, the corn market scored

Later, the market was influenced by an estimate that the Argentine exportablesurplus was the smolle[st] in five years. Closing prices were firm, ⅞ to 1¼ net higher, May 79⅞ to 80.

[redacted] bain sall around.

OATS — Oats started unchanged to ⅜c off, May 45¼ to 45½, but soon rallied to above yesterday's finish.

PROVISIONS —Provisions were easy in response to a decline in the hog market.

Stock Market Mixed; Main Tendency Up

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Mixed price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market but the main tendency was upward. New high records for the year were established by DuPont at 133¼, Canadian Pacific at 152⅝ and General Motors at 16⅜ while Stewart Warner Speedometer displaced its previous top of 123½, the net gains ranging from fractions to 1 point. Most of the other motor and motor accessory shares also moved to higher ground. Sporadic selling broke out again in the oil groups. Prices hardened after the early selling orders had been absorbed. Trading in rails was more active with "Soo" common leading the advance with a gain of 1¼. Substantial fractional improvement was registered by New York Central, Southern Railway common and pfd., Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Rock Island and Reading. Stewart Warner established a new top at 123¼, up 1¾, and Dupont extended its gain to 2¾. Gains of 1 to nearly 2 points also were established by U. S. Steel, Manati, Punta Alegre and Cuban Cane Sugar pfd., Reynolds Spring, Marland Oil and International Harvester. Crucible and Iron Products were conspicuously heavy. Foreign exchanges opened easier, demand sterling being quoted around $4.65 and French francs dropped 3 points to 6.61 cents.

Subsequently, despite improved weather conditions over the entire grain belt, the grain market scored a further advance. The close was strong 1⅝ to 2⅛c net higher with May 1.25⅞@1.26 and July 1.23¾@1.23⅞.

The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 800,000 shares.

Tobacco Notes.

Al. Schroede is receiving pool tobacco at Stoughton this week that he recently bought for Cullman Bros. of New York.

The Janesville Gazette says with relation to the tobacco situation in Rock county—

Prices on pool tobacco range from 10 to 11 cents for stemming stock up to 22 and even 27c for the good grades. The prices paid for non-pool tobacco is reported to be about the same as the quotations set by the pool, with here and there a slight increase or decrease. Tobacco growers in and near Rock county are justly concerned over what disposition will be made by the Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool on the crops still in the hands of the farmers. Decision will have to be made in the immediate future what will be done with this tobacco, which is generally the lower grades of sorting crops.

Big deliveries of stomming stock have been ordered for the Janesville headquarters. There will be around 85,000 pounds delivered in Evansville today and about 130,000 pounds in Janesville Wednesday or Thursday.

Some sorting stock was received in Orfordville and Clinton last week.

Mayor's Message to Council

a large measure, determine your usefulness to the community as councilmen.

"To the other junior aldermen, returned for further service, we also extend congratulations.

"To be a member of the common council of the city of Madison is a signal honor, not only because of the high average intelligence of her people, but because she is the seat of government of our beloved commonwealth and the home of our world famous University of Wisconsin.

"It is our duty to live up to the high ideals of democracy so well established here and foster the 'Spirit of Wisconsin' which naturally is the 'Spirit of Madison' so that our city may be and continue worthy of the trust which the state has committed to her, in these two splendid institutions.

"As Wisconsin is a model state, so should Madison be a model city.

LOOK TO FUTURE.

"It is the duty of every member of this honorable body to strive to attain for Madison that community state of mind, that public sentiment, moral, spiritual, civic, social, and material which the people of the state at large have a right to expect to find here.

"It is not sufficient to apprehend and punish the culprit who has violated the law, to fill up the holes when they appear in the streets, to extinguish the fire after it has started, to tear down a building that has been improperly constructed, to abate the nuisance, to cure the disease. It is the duty of the several departments of government to anticipate and prevent the existence of conditions from which all these and other irregularities result.

"The people do not expect perfection—the people are patient, but they do have a right to expect from us and from the departments which we organize, faithful, conscientious intelligent, up to date service and 100 cents worth for every dollar expended.

"This needs something more than serious consideration. It requires intelligent action on the part of all councilmen and department heads.

FINANCES ARE GOOD

"The finances of the city are in excellent condition as may be seen from the monthly reports from the auditor's office.

"On January 1, the city took over and assumed the entire deficit of the board of education and provided in the current budget sufficient funds to properly finance all educational enterprises for a full year.

"I heartily commend this action on the part of the common council and recommend close co-operation between your honorable body and the Board of Education to the end that the proper education of the boys and girls of the community will never be hampered because of an inadequate budget.

Bonded Indebtedness

"The bonded indebtedness as of April 15, 1923, is as follows:

The total valuation of real estate and personal property ..... $85,097,923.00

Bond limit is 5 per cent of this amount, or ..... 4,254,896.15

The records to date show the net bonded indebtedness at ..... 2,955,570.00

Leaving a balance for future bond issues of ..... 1,299,106.00

Three years ago the amount available was ..... 1,090,665.00

We are therefore farther from the bond limit now than at that time ..... 208,441.00

NEEDS AGENT

"While the committee on supplies and the city auditor are to be commended on the way in which supplies have been purchased in the past, yet it is my opinion that Madison should have a purchasing agent. No private corporation doing a third of the business done by our city would attempt to purchase its supplies and materials except through a purchasing agent devoting his full time to the job. Experience in other cities has proved that a full time purchasing agent is able to save to the taxpayers many times his salary.

"I recommend that you give this matter earnest consideration so that the necessary legislation may be enacted in time to make provision therefor in the next budget.

ZONING ORDINANCE

"It was not claimed even by its most enthusiastic supportors that the zoning ordinance that was passed last fall, was perfect.

"Provisions are made in the ordinance itself for making the necessary changes therein as the defects develop. Several changes have already been made. I suggest that careful consideration be given to all proposed amendments to the end that the ideals and purposes of this important piece of legislation be not defeated.

MAJOR STREET PLAN

"I recommend that you give early attention to the major street plan proposed by Harland Bartholmow. The adoption of this plan or some modification thereof would establish a scientific basis on which to develop our arterial highways and solve our traffic problems. University avenue should be extended through to West Washington avenue and I believe that public sentiment demands that early steps be teken to that end.

ARTERIAL HIGHWAYS

At present State St. and a part of University ave. are designated as arterial highways and all traffic entering or crossing said streets required to stop. I request that the mayor be authorized to appoint a special committee to consider and report to this council a reasonable system of such highways, to the end that accidents at intersections may be reduced.

SMOKE NUISANCE

I am again urging that an ordinance be enacted, the enforcement of which will not be unreasonable but will reduce to a minimum the smoke nuisance. It would be unreasonable at this time to prohibit the use of soft coal, but authorities on the subject maintain that smoke and soot can be practically eliminated by proper firing.

"Some member of an existing city department, might be designated smoke inspector thus avoiding the expense of creating and maintaining an additional department for this work.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

"It must be gratifying to you as well as to the people of Madison that substantial progress has been made toward having a new sewage disposal plant, in that a satisfactory site has been procured.

"Inasmuch as the present plant is running beyond its intended capacity continuall, I recommend and urge that no time be lost in completing the new plant and suggest that it might be well to take advantage of the present low interest rates for financing the project.

STREET RAILWAY

"The controversy over the paving of the street railway zone has not been settled. Those who ride on the street cars should be required to bear the expense of such paving only to the extent of the additional cost due to the presence of the rails and ties in the street.

"I urge an early disposition of this matter so that streets over which the Street Railway Co. operate may be paved.

"We quarrel only with ourselves in delaying this adjustment.

ATHLETIC FIELD

"Madison needs many things that she does not have to make her an ideal city and entitled to the 'Place in the Sun' which she actually occupies.

"I will name but three. A new City Hall, an Auditorium and an Athletic Field.

"We can struggle along for some time yet in this old building if necessary. We are permitted to use the capitol and university buildings for our conventions and public gatherings, but we should have an adequate athletic field conveniently located not too far from the business section of the city and the Central high school for reasons needless to mention here.

"I recommend co-operation with the athletic field committee and the local athletic association with a view of procuring in some reasonable manner a municipal athletic field for Madison.

FAVORS ANNEXATION

"I believe I am voicing the sentiments of the members of this council and of a large majority of the people of Madison in commending the taxpayers and property owners of South Madison for their unselfish desire to be annexed to the Capital City.

"I trust that there will be no delay in granting their petition this time because we need South Madison and South Madison needs us.

CONCLUSION

"It has not been my intention to mention all the important subjects with which you will deal during the coming year, but I know that as they are presented you will co-operate as heretofore so that the best interests of the city at large will always be secured."

Student Here Wins Scholarship Of $1,000

Olaf N. Rove, 145 Iota court, a student at the university here, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship from the American-Scandinavian foundation in order to study geology at the University of Christiana, Norway, it was announced by the foundation on Sunday.

Rove is the son of Olaf I. Rove, counsel for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee.

PAWHUSKA, Okla.— Five bandits rifled the safe of the postoffice here this morning. Robert Wilkerson, son of the chief of police, was killed and "Shorty" Harrison, taxicab driver, wounded by the bandits. Wilkerson's body was riddled with bullets and Harrison was not expected to live. The bandits are headed toward Bartlesville, Oklahoma, according to advices. No money was obtained, it was said.

Are Progressives to Subsidize Political Machine With $25,000 Yearly?

REPORTS from the state capitol are to the effect that a powerful and resourceful lobby is at work to save the state board of education from being abolished. Wires are being cleverly pulled and every argument and prejudice that can be used to turn legislators is being used against the Garey bill.

If the personal political machine that has been the outgrowth of the state board of education is to be perpetuated in Wisconsin through the support of progressive votes, it will indeed be a travesty on the mandate received from the people last fall.

If the progressives in the assembly want to be responsible for financing Mr. Fitzpatrick's personal political ambitions to the tune of $25,000 a year, they have that privilege. But if they do underwrite Mr. Fitzpatrick with this state subsidy for another two years, the progressive voters of Wisconsin ought to be spared the chatter at election time of progressive candidates for the legislature who are pledging themselves to economy and to the abolition of useless state boards and commissions.

* * *

THE resourceful Mr. Fitzpatrick is using a misstatement made by the president of the Oshkosh Normal school before the finance committee as the latest straw for perpetuating himself. The incident is being exploited to the fullest advantage among members of the assembly who are being told that the incident shows how the state board of education "checks up" on the state's educational institutions.

The president of the Oshkosh Normal replies that through the misunderstanding of a question he gave a wrong answer at a hearing on the normal school appropriation bill before the finance committee. Mr. Fitzpatrick, at the hearing, pointed out the error and he has since capitalized it to the fullest extent. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a past master at knowing how to take full advantage of such a situation in gaining votes in the legislature.

If the superficial incident of discovering an error made by a normal school president is to be sufficient to perpetuate the state board of education perhaps, then, a blunder made by the same board ought to be sufficient reason for wiping out the board.

Members of the assembly will undoubtedly recall the embarrassing situation in which Gov. Blaine was placed by the state board of education when he submitted his biennial message to the legislature. The governor endeavored to show the number of students to the number of teachers in the faculty at the university in order to prove that the number of teaching hours of many professors was small. The governor obtained his information from the state board of education. When the message was printed in the newspapers the correctness of the governor's figures, with respect to the teaching hours at the university, was promptly challenged by President Birge. Gov. Blaine investigated the matter, found that the facts submitted in his message were wrong and in a letter to President Birge, which was given to the press, admitted the mistake and made the corrections.

The state board of education, then, makes mistakes as well as normal school presidents.

* * *

THE argument is made for the state board of education that it acts as a watchdog over the state's educational institutions. That is a pretty theory that hasn't worked out. The time of the state board of education has been spent largely in writing pamphlets and treatises—much of it of a propaganda nature.

Mr. Fitzpatrick has been the directing genius of the state board of education since its inception. So thoroughly does Mr. Fitzpatrick run the board that the board sometimes transacts business without the members of the board being present.

Here is a question that we would like to ask of the members of the assembly who are being lured by the charm of the board's lobby:

If the state board of education has acted as a sort of guardian for the state's educational institutions where was Mr. Fitzpatrick during those periods when the state's educational institutions were being closed to all but reactionary influences? Is it in the record anywhere that the state board of education ever offered any protest against the exclusion from the campus of such people as Oswald Garrison Villard, Mrs. McSwiney, Mrs. O'Hare and others who incurred the opposition of war mad boards of regents?

Mr. Fitzpatrick's board never acted against the hysteria in our schools because Mr. Fitzpatrick was on the side of those who were hounding the "radicals", Mr. Fitzpatrick, with his good friend, Magnus Swenson, helped in maintaining the war hysteria in Wisconsin.

Another question:

If the publicity methods used by Mr. Fitzpatrick are a big part of the program of acting as a watchdog over the state's educational institution why wasn't Mr. Fitzpatrick correspondingly strong for publicity when he was custodian of the state draft board figures? Why were Mr. Swenson and Mr. Fitzpatrick so anxious to send the draft board salary and expense figures to Washington where they were buried in archives and where they cannot be reached to this day? Will Mr. Fitzpatrick deny that he was a party to the transaction to send these figures out of Wisconsin so that the people here could not learn who received salaries as members of draft boards?

* * *

THE members of the assembly should know the facts. The state board of education is a political junta. It is a political junta that has been used against the progressive movement. Just why progressives in the assembly should want to subsidize a political machine to the extent of $25,000 a year is beyond our understanding.

We would suggest to our readers that they watch the roll call on the bill of Senator Garey to abolish the state board of education. Gov. Blaine is for the bill. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., chairman of the Republican state central committee, is in favor of the bill. Atty. Gen. Ekern is in favor of the bill. In fact, progressive leaders who are on the ground and in a position to watch the state board of education at close range are for the abolition of the state board of education.

Voice of the People

WOULD ABOLISH THE BOARD.

[To The Editor]—I wish to commend the advance stand taken by The Capital Times for the abolition of the State Board of Education. You certainly hit a responsive chord among the people in this section, and it is to be sincerely hoped that at least one useless board will be discontinued. This board which costs the taxpayers upward of $25,000 a year to maintain, and which performs no worthwhile function, was created under the last Stalwart regime for the ostensible purpose of giving a political lieutenant a $6,000 job. The incumbent distinguished himself by his gum-shoe methods and his ability to maintain "listening posts" within the Socialist and Progressive lines. His operations became so bold during the present session that Governor Blaine felt the necessity of calling him on the carpet and warning him to confine himself to the duties he was supposed to be performing at $6,000 per year. Men of this type are not easily separated from the state payroll but if dislodged generally aim to worm themselves into some other soft snap politically. Politics with them is a business under the guise of being a scientific expert or trained specialist and the taxpayers are the goat.—A Former Legislator, Marshfield, Wis.

HIGH SALARIES AT CAPITOL.

[To The Editor]—I have been reading the discussion in your columns and it seems to me the subject of state expense is the most timely. People are watching the legislature and the governor for some adequate relief from high taxes. They are not only expecting appropriations will be shaved down to cover bare necessities, but that existing extravagancies be stopped. Fat salaries should be entirely tabooed. The legislature should use the axe. The proposition to have the matter of salaries investigated by a state employe and report to the legislature two years hence is ridiculous and simply side-stepping the question. If this legislature is not competent to use the cleaver on exorbitant salaries, it better save a long-suffering people further useless expense and adjourn sine die. Through plain favoritism certain state employes have received increases in salaries at frequent intervals until many subordinate employes receive $4,000 and over, ranging as high as $6,000. A few bills were introduced in the beginning of the session—notably one bill by Assemblyman Spoor—but I understand that through petty politics they have either been withdrawn or emasculated. Apparently the members of the legislature wish to avoid a roll call on such matters. Economy so far seems to be a huge joke with the legislature. If present high salaries are permitted to continue then it is certain there is "something rotten in Denmark."—A Taxpayer.

If you'd ban the "skeeter's" sweet refrain, screen your windows, ditch and drain.

From the standpoint of health, the best kind of a cistern to own is a dry one.

THE STATE PRESS

Cambridge Fatality

The News Says That Something Must Be Done To Clean Up Things In The Village.

The following editorial appeared in last Friday's Cambridge News on the fatality in that village from the moonshine party:

It is a painful duty to record the results of such a disgraceful orgy as was held at the village clerk's office last Saturday night and Sunday morning. One shrinks from making public the misdoings of those who live in so small a town as ours. It seems almost like airing private family affairs. But nothing is to be gained by covering such things up. Too much of this has been done in the past. It only encourages offenders to repeat their evil performances. If every misdemeanor and unlawful action of our people was brought promptly to the light of day, do you think there would be so much of it?

The question is—What are we going to do about it? Does it require the taking of a life before we are aroused to action? This unfortunate the results of the years of license series of such occurrences, and there have been many others of different nature, the results of which have been covered up.

We are not thinking so much of punishment in this particular case. That should be accorded—surely, and no doubt will be. But let us get down to the cause of it all if possible. No doubt we are reaping as a community the results of the years of license that made our town so notorious; but we must learn to respect teh law—that is the first principle of good citizenship. There has been evident in our midst a total disregard for laws that do not just meet our approval. We had a prominent farmer say to us yesterday, "Law! why there is no law in Cambridge." Now there must be some cause for a remark like that.

The Good Book says that he who breaks one law is guilty of breaking them all. Certain it is, that disrespect for one law easily leads to disrespect for all laws, and if we, as a community, encourage laxity as to any law, we must not be surprised if we are sooner or later confronted with just such a horrible spectacle as that we have witnessed the past few days. The line must be drawn and drawn tight.

It is common talk on our streets that liquor may be purchased in our village. Such conditions were tolerated to a greater or less degree under the old 'No-License' rule, but now—with the law written into the constitution of the U. S.—he who would traffic in this illicit business, is a betrayer of his sacred American citizenship and must be dealt with accordingly.

We call upon the new village board, all of whom have pledged their sacred honor to support the Constitution of the United States and of the state of Wisconsin, to take such measures as are necessary to see that the laws—all of them—are enforced. In the performance of this duty every loyal American citizen will stand back of them.

April Humane Thought

THE SNAKE

By A. E. FREDERICK
State Humane Officer

The unrestrained human desire to kill often finds its satisfaction in the destruction of the snake. This is often true because of the general, though incorrect, assumption that every snake is the enemy of man.

Snakes may be classed as poisonous and harmless. In this country the poisonous kinds are comparatively scarce, and they are constantly victims of man who will eventually affect their extermination.

The harmless species are far the most numerous. And they have a necessary place in the program of nature. They are not pests, nor are they dangerous to human life in any way. Rather are they man's servant and helper.

While some of our snakes are tree climbers, most of them spend their time mainly on the ground, searching in the grass, swamp, and thickets for frogs, toads, tadpoles, ground-nesting birds, mice and insects. The latter form the principal food of the smaller kinds, among which is the common garter snake.

The loss to agriculture caused by field mice, bugs, beetles and insects is enormous. The snake cuts down this loss considerably, and thereby becomes of real value to the farmer.

We make a mistake when we teach children to fear snakes, and we are wrong when we encaurage them in killing them. Grown men are able to rid the land of poisonous reptiles, and this task need not devolve upon the children.

Killing does not always imply courage. It more often indicates brutality. Further, it never develops the spirit of gentleness. And gentleness makes for strength of character. The truly brave are gentle.

Answers Gov. Blaine

Granville Trace Has Editorial Reply To Recent Letter Of The State Executive.

Granville Trace, editor of the Dodgeville Sun-Republic, has the following editorial reply to Gov. Blaine's letter:

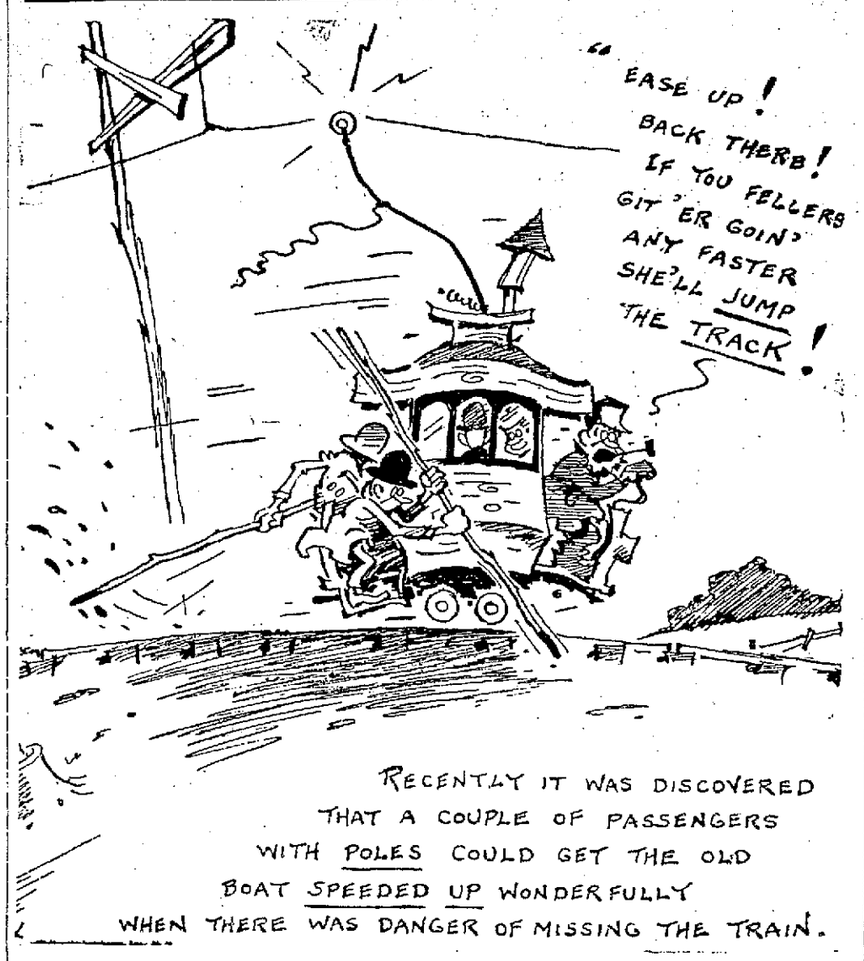

The big facts are that after a lifelong record as a "dry" the governor has now pronounced in favor of the wet point of view, and that at a critical time in the history of the dry movement in the United States and in Wisconsin, and that a heavy handicap was thereby put upon the Progressive movement. It is worth noting that this one matter, of all that our editorial contained, is singled out for a specific a reply. Everything else is covered by a general tirade against newspaper lying.

We agree with Gov. Blaine that many newspapers have lost the confidence of the public, and we think that this is largely because of their custom of standing by the leaders of their own party or faction regardless of right or truth or the public welfare. We do not wish to belong to that classification of newspapers.

We are grateful to the governor for his mention that we are interested in the Progressive movement. We are, and we always have been. We always shall be. We deeply regret that so few newspapers are willing to do justice to that great movement. We regret no less that so few politicians are found faithful to it when tempted by ambition.

We wish to be fair in this matter. Elsewhere on this page we reproduce The Capital Times editorial referred to. If at any time we learn further facts, on either side of the controversy, we will give them all the publicity we can. We are not frightened by the suggestion that we may forfeit the confidence of our readers. We leave that to them, content to abide by their decision.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All Trains

Bonus Bill to Pass

So Says National Commander Of American Legion In Statement.

"The national bonus or adjusted compensation bill can be compared to a mighty locomotive coming down the track at full speed. And the wise men of the nation, who wish to stop the engine, but are powerless, will step out of the way." So declares Alvin Owsley, national commander.

ALVIN OWSLEY

"I know we are going to pass the national bonus," said the commander in Chicago recently. "A canvass of the coming congress has been made, and we find that we have enough votes to put it over. Then it will go to the president for approval or veto, and I am inclined to think he will give it his O. K. But if he does not we have four more than enough votes to pass it over his veto."

Owsley, just back from a trip to the navy maneuvers off the Panama canal, says:

"We Americans are guards of the peace of this half of the world by the Monroe doctrine, and by our possession of the Panama canal we are guardians of the peace of the entire world. This canal must be kept safe from all attack and it must be open to all the nations of the world. It is one of our most important holdings."

Poems That Live

PAST AND PRESENT

I remember, I remember
The house where I was born,
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn;
He never came a wink too soon,
Nor brought too long a day;
But now, I often wish the night
Had borne my breath away.

I remember, I remember
The roses, red and white,
The violets and the lily-cups—
Those flowers made of light!
The lilacs where the robin built,
And where my brother set
The laburnum on his birthday—
The tree is living yet!

I remember, I remember
Where I was used to swing,
And thought the air must rush as fresh
To swallows on the wing;
My spirits flew in feathers then
That is so heavy now,
And summer pools could hardly cool
The fever on my brow.

I remember, I remember
The fir trees dark and high;
I used to think their slender tops
Were close upon the sky!
It was a childish ignorance,
But now 'tis little joy
To know I'm farther off from Heaven
Than when I was a boy.

—Thomas Hood.

HEALTH HINTS

If you keep well you'll sleep well.
Doctors profit by other people's mistakes.

If we would but contemplate what's on the roofs of our houses, we would know what our cisterns contain.

Every wide-awake household has a sleeping porch.

Sweeping's bad, where growing youngsters
Inhale the dust with germs galore;
In later life they're often lungsters,
From these microbes on the floor.

PERMANENCY.

Tulips red and yellow nodding gayly round the door,
The heavy clustered hyacinth its perfume spills once more.
How permanent is springtime, for the beauty that we know
Is the loveliness of springtime of ten thousand years ago.

All things which man has builded have their hour and pass away,
The wind of fashion chills them and they fall into decay,
But the blossoms in the orchards and the tulips red and gold
Were lovely things and graceful long before the world was old.

It was like this in the springtime long before the Christ was born,
They saw the self-same beauty in a lovely April morn,
They heard the robin singing as he sings to you and me
And each brook was molten silver as it journeyed to the sea.

The world may soon forget us, wiser men than we have been
May see with clearer vision that our eyes have never seen,
But throughout the distant ages still the daffodils shall grow
And the springtime of the future shall be like the spring we know.

Our Last Word on Health

Now being bald
Is no disgrace;
You comb less hair
But wash more face.

Racing one's legs is like racing one's motor.

A sun parlor is a place where we sit with the shades drawn.

You can't get blood out of a turnip nor hair out of a bottle.

Our Willie, at twenty,
Was a bear at the bat;
But when he reached forty
He was puffy and fat.

Testing the physical endurance of children is a hindrance to their physical development.

Dr. Trotter, St. Louis, has been experimenting with "hair restorers" and comes to the conclusion that nothing restores the hair that is lost.

Bald is the pate of my childhood—
Gone is the hair that was red;
I've tried every brand of "promoter"
But nothing will grow on my head.

When the maximum speed of an automobile is 60 miles an hour, it can't be driven at that speed for long without permanent damage to the motor.

"Gall Stones" form in the gall bladder and are usually too large to pass through the duct leading into the intestine. To get rid of them requires a conscious mind and some surgical skill.

Sleep out-doors and, ten to one, you'll
Ne'er be bothered with a "cold;"
Lots of folks will sneeze and sniffle,
Breathing nightly, air that's old.

TICKS O' THE TIMES

AMPLIFIED BY IRV SHAFRIN

The following caustic ode proved too hot for us to handle, and so we rushed it right to the press pronto:

TO GABBERS

Are you a Johnnie or a Gertie Gabber,
And with a family of gabbers sit
At church functions and auxiliaries,
To labellum all the hellum
In your poisonous cranium?

You may depend the innocent, peaceful folk
Would ten thousand times rather
Hear the cat hissum, the dog howlum
Or listen to the monkeys chatter
Than lend an ear to you:
Insensate, illusive, asinine biped
Who infests the by-ways of society
And the churches of today.

These Johnnie and Gertie Gabbers
Do not know how tiresome and nauseating
Their gabble grows; their tongues
Keep wagging all the day.

Oh, kind sir, Ticks O' The Times,
Will you please tell us
The number of conformities
To rule———they say?

"B SQUARED."

* * *

Not being one of the rulers, B squared, we're afraid we can't give you a catalogue of conformities to rule. But you possess one of 'em to the nth degree—and that's irony. We'll have more of it.

From which we'll strike a lighter vein.

THE PARADOX OF WEALTH.

Mr. Oldham, after a long absence, came back one day to his old home town. He called on his boyhood chum, the hardware merchant.

"Well," queried Mr. Oldham in the course of the conversation, "how is Upton; and how is McBride?"

"Upton is so well off that he takes morning drives in his own car . . . . "

"That so?"

"And McBride so rich that he takes a daily walk for exercise."

* * *

Well, we walk too, but not for exercise which knocks the above theory crazier than a tipsy lunatic.

NECESSITY KNOWS NO LAW.

Dear Ticks: I hope a few of your readers are coal dealers; let them hearken to this tale of gruesome sacrifice.

Last Wednesday our coke gave out. Thursday we sacrificed two stepladders, the flour bin and three wash tubs. The stormhouse disappeared in the furnace on Friday; Saturday saw the end of the carpet sweeper, three brooms, a set of Kipling, four suitcases and the icebox. We kept warm Sunday on the heat calories effected from Webster's unabridged, the old hall clock, two folding cots and the kitchen table.

Help! We have nothing left but a set of installment plan furniture!

Expectantly,
"ANNE ONIMUS"

* * *

Dear Anne: We can't see you suffer any longer. We are sending you today by special delivery the latest edition of Dante's Inferno; the section on Purgatory will assuredly make it hot for you.

* * *

ATTENTION: "REMINGTON," RICE LAKE.

We Madison folks thought we had the laugh on you when you submitted that "stoking furnace" spring poem the other day. But after last Saturday's debacle we take it all back, Rem. That triple comeback of the frost king knocked our spring hopes further than the distance to the sun. And that 1923 crop of cherries, Rem, is all petrified. We apologize.

There's always something attractive about a person who's

SINGING IN THE RAIN

Singing in the rain, singing in the rain,
What tho' the clouds are black, sing just the same;
No loving heart be near to you—
No loving heart be near to you,
Sing in the rain,
Sing in the rain.

Singing in the rain, singing in the rain,
Tho' the storms toss you about, sing just the same;
You may not see the pearly tint,
Nor the sunshine's golden glint;
Smile tho' the tears fall fast,
Smile to the very last!

The trouble is, Mary, it's all snow and no rain this year.

At any rate, by the time that $5000 is raised to bring Galli-Curci here, most of us will be able to pronounce her name without a hiten.

Between ice in winter and waves in summer Lake Mendota is about as peaceful as a cannibal feud.

Millionaires may be fat, but they're never short.

When a physical director prescribes one treatment for all his "patients" he becomes a funeral director.

If folks would only study a bit about their health, they wouldn't have to worry so much about their wealth.
